HARDING'S AID AVERTS STOCK YARDS STRIKE

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—With the administration holding general wage reductions unavoidable in the readjustment of industry to lower price levels, peace, for the next six months at least, was reëstablished today in the packing industry. The threatened strike of Chicago and other stockyards workers was averted.

The negotiations between the packers and their employés, initiated by Secretary of Labor Davis, culminated in a compromise agreement signed by the attorneys representing the big five Chicago packers and the officers of the meat cutters and affiliated packing house unions, which provides:

1. That the employés accept the wage reductions put into effect by the packers last week.

2. That the packers agree to the restoration of the basic eight hour day and overtime rates.

3. That the packers agree to the continuation until Sept. 15, 1921, of the arbitration system of settling disputes between them and their employés.

Regards Pact as Triumph.

Secretary Davis hailed the outcome as a triumph of conciliation for the administration in dealing with its first threatening labor problem. He will escort the representatives of the packers and the unions to the White House tomorrow to receive the congratulations of President Harding.

Whether the settlement is to be a permanent peace or only a six months' truce will depend on the extent of any further readjustment of working conditions the packers may undertake on the expiration of the arbitration agreement.

The packers intend to put into effect their plan for the participation of the employés in the management of the industry. The union leaders are skeptical of the possible results of the settlement and pronounce it only a truce.

To Have Widespread Effect.

While the administration is understood to be committed to recognition of the basic eight hour day as desirable in all industry, its opinion that wage reductions are inevitable as prices fall probably will have a profound effect upon the processes of readjustment. This is the question at issue now between the railroads and their employés.

The American Federation of Labor has taken a stand against wage reductions.

The packing house settlement was effected in conferences today with Secretary Davis by both parties to the controversy.

Asks Pointed Question.

When the terms of the agreement were laid before the opposing sides for signature, the packers' representatives wanted to parley further.

The signatures of the packers' attorneys, James G. Condon and Carl Meyer, were promptly attached. Thus the agreement was completed.

Secretary Davis immediately telephoned the news to the White House. He was keenly elated at the successful outcome of his first efforts as a labor mediator.

Calls Compact Truce Only.

"We have signed a truce to prepare for war," Redmond S. Brennan, counsel for the packers' employés, said, after the agreement had been announced.

"We entered this agreement because I felt it was necessary to avert bloodshed. The position of the workers was so fair and so reasonable that if a strike had resulted the fury of impatient men would have broken forth under a new kind of leadership and the strike would have been waged more intelligently and more viciously than any ever seen before in this country. It, therefore, regarded it as of national importance that the strike be averted.

Fears Later Strife.

"If the packers after Sept. 15, when the Aschuler agreement expires, display the same hostility toward fair and just consideration of the demands of their employés, industrial strife is certain to result.

"In the meantime, however, we ex-

Police Army Combing City for Murderer

Detective Sergeant Patrick (Paddy) O'Neill of the detective bureau, one of the "gamest" men on the force, was shot and killed last night by Thomas (Tommy) O'Connor, notorious gunman and crook, at the home of O'Connor's brother-in-law, William Foley, 6415 South Washtenaw avenue.

Although five other officers were within 50 feet at the time of the killing, O'Connor escaped. The five were Detective Sergeants Joseph Ronan, Tom McShane, William Carter, Edward Halpin, and William Fenn.

At 1 o'clock in the morning a manhunt unequaled in the history of the police department and rivaling the famous chase after "Tracy, the Bandit," was under way in the suburban districts west and northwest of the city, under the personal direction of Chief of Police Fitzmorris and Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes.

Chief Offers Reward.

With a reward of $500 for the capture of O'Connor, dead or alive, offered by Chief Fitzmorris, more than 1,000 policemen and detectives armed with rifles and riot guns and in automobiles and taxicabs were engaged in the pursuit.

O'Connor, following his escape from the home, boarded a Checker cab at Sixty-third street and Western avenue. He rode by a roundabout route to Sixty-third street and Campbell avenue. There he jumped upon the running board of a touring car, driven by W. R. Condon, living at the Drexel Arms hotel. In the car with Condon was Mrs. Condon.

Flourishing two revolvers, O'Connor ordered Condon to drive him west on Sixty-third street. At Sixty-third street and Seventy-second avenue he forced Mrs. Condon to leave the car.

Forces Condon to Drive.

O'Connor then forced Condon to drive northward on Seventy-second avenue through the township of Stickney. They crossed the Desplaines river in the village of Lyons, raced through Riverside and to the Forest Park station of the Garfield Park elevated line.

There O'Connor forced Condon to leave the car. O'Connor then continued northward. The police theory is that he went north to Lake street, thence west through River Forest and again north to either the Higgins or Milwaukee road.

Police forces of all suburban towns in the district were at once notified of the case. O'Connor's description was furnished them. They promised to scour the district at once by motorcycle and automobile.

Rifle Squads Sent Out.

In the meantime the rifle squads ordered into the south side directly after the killing by Chief of Police Fitzmorris were sent into the northwest section of the city with instructions to carefully patrol every road.

Neither Condon nor his wife were injured by O'Connor, though Mrs. Condon suffered a nervous collapse after he forced her to leave the car.

"Darling Dave" O'Connor, brother of Tommy, appeared at the Foley home at 1 o'clock this morning. He was placed under arrest by Chief of Detectives Hughes and was taken to the bureau.

How O'Neill Was Slain.

O'Neill and four other detectives, with Detective Sergeant Ronan in charge of the squad, were sent to the Foley home at 10 o'clock last night to search for O'Connor. The latter was wanted for bond forfeiture in connection with the killing of "Jimmy" Cherin, one of O'Connor's pals, whose body was found on a lonely country road southwest of the city over a year ago.

The officers surrounded the house. Detective Sergeant Halpin knocked on the front door. A second later the rear door opened and O'Connor appeared on the porch, revolver in hand.

"Hounded," Slayer Cries.

Directly in front and below him stood O'Neil.

"'You dirty ——, I'm going to get you, anyway. You've hounded me long enough," O'Connor rasped as he opened fire. At the fifth shot O'Neill dropped, a bullet through his left side. Thirty minutes later he died at St. Bernard's hospital.

Escape Is a Mystery.

What happened immediately following the shooting is more or less a mystery. The other detectives declared they were too busy getting O'Neill to a place of safety to watch O'Connor. A neighbor living at 6411 Washtenaw avenue said O'Neill's body lay in the areaway in full view for ten minutes.

According to other witnesses, the remaining detectives were grouped around the front of the house five minutes after the shooting, when Mrs.

COURT ENDS TEN YEARS' TRAVEL OF 'OLD MASTER'

"The Immaculate Conception," a painting reputed to be an original by the sixteenth century master, Murillo, found a new home yesterday. Its new owner, according to a decree by Judge Wells M. Cook, is Mrs. Demia G. K. Guthrie of Paducah, Ky.

The painting was brought to America from Barcelona, Spain, by Benjamin Mann, a wealthy New York art connoisseur, ten years ago. Upon the death of his wife nine years later it went to a daughter, Mrs. Emma M. Krings of Youngstown, O.

The Thurber Art gallery restored it and then it came into the temporary possession of the Rev. William T. McCandless, who offered to sell it for Mrs. Krings. Later he sued the owner for compensation in exhibiting the painting.

Attorney A. W. Eheim of 1907 Patterson avenue represented Mrs. Krings and retained the picture as payment for his services. It remained in his home for seven years. Mrs. Krings presented the painting to her daughter, Mrs. Guthrie, who started a replevin suit against Attorney Eheim, which Judge Cook decided in her favor.

North Shore and Railroads Plan for Daylight Saving

North shore towns and railroads yesterday made plans to fall into line with the daylight saving measure which becomes effective in Chicago next Sunday. All the towns except Waukegan will change their clocks to conform with Chicago time. Waukegan, which did not have daylight saving last year, will vote on the matter next week. The Illinois Central, Pennsylvania, Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, New York Central, and Rock Island railroads have revised time tables of suburban trains to conform with Chicago time, but through trains will be operated on central standard time.

SETS RECORD IN PARACHUTE LEAP

LIEUT. A. G. HAMILTON.

The previous record was 22,000 feet, made in Texas on Feb. 22.

Lieut. Hamilton, one of the men who took part in a triple jump at Chanute field last week, went to sleep on the long, slow climb to the position of his leap. Lieut. Harry Weddington, head of the air service mechanics' school, piloted his pet De Haviland, Jeremiah III.

Goes to Sleep in Cockpit.

At that altitude the ship was climbing slowly and at an unusually high angle of incidence. The Liberty motor pulled steadily but slowly towards the top. When the altimeter showed they had reached 24,400 feet Lieut. Weddington turned in his cockpit and found his companion in a doze. He awakened the jumper.

"'Good luck," Weddington shouted above the roar of the motor as the jumper slipped sleepily over the side.

Down shot Lieut. Hamilton. He said after landing that he had just enough strength to pull the cord, releasing the 'chute. The pilot 'chute opened and dragged out the big 'chute. The rush of the fall was checked after a drop of 200 feet.

While Hamilton was floating down with the wind Weddington landed, got another ship, took off, and flew to the field where Hamilton landed, reaching there about the time the jumper's feet touched the ground.

PARIS SAYS OUR SHIP OF STATE IS SHY A PILOT

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

PARIS, March 23.—The semi-official press today caused consternation by announcing that Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes had resigned and that President Harding had accepted the resignation. The comments of these newspapers, Le Temps and Journal des Debats, reveal how seriously such an eventuality as the erroneous report heralded would be taken by official France.

NO BASIS—WASHINGTON.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Officials today said that there was absolutely no basis for the Paris report of a division in the cabinet. No one here could tell how the rumor started.

DECKER AGAIN CONFESSES; SAYS HE SLEW LOVETT

Warsaw, Ind., March 23.—Virgil Decker, held here charged with the murder of Leroy Lovett, made a third confession tonight, in which he exonerated "Dago Joe" Invagnolia of any connection with the killing.

In his latest statement, which was made through his attorney late tonight, he said he killed Lovett during a fight in a cabin on the Tippecanoe river near Atwood, Ind. Both being in an intoxicated condition a quarrel took place in the cabin, he said, during which he picked up an iron bar and struck Lovett on the head with it, killing him.

The details of how he (Decker) disposed of the body, as given in the statement, are the same as those made in previous confessions.

MEANEST HOLDUP TAKES HER HAT, GLOVES, SLIPPERS

Ralph Kritle, 4512 Montrose avenue, and Miss Cecile Morland, 4328 Kenneth avenue, were strolling on Tripp avenue, near Berteau, last night when a tall man in a dark overcoat, holding a gun, stepped out of the shadow, ordered them to hold up their hands, and took $3 from Kritle. Then he turned to the girl.

"Take off that hat," he said. She complied.

"Now your gloves."

"Now your slippers."

Miss Morland slipped out of her neat dancing slippers and stood shivering on the pavement. The man then struck her on the head and ran. She has a severe scalp wound.

Former Senator's Son Killed in California

RED FLAGS FLY OVER HAMBURG; SOVIET REIGNS

Saxony Cities in Grip of Terror.

BULLETIN.

BERLIN, March 23.—(United Press.)—Twelve persons were killed and eighteen were wounded in street fighting in the Hamburg Communist uprising, according to an official statement. The hoisting of the red flag at two shipyards was the signal that started the fighting. Martial law has been declared.

BY GEORGE SELDES.

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Dynamiters have caused great damage to public buildings in Dresden and Leipsic.

A general strike has been called in the Halle industrial zone.

A score of outrages of communist origin are reported by various towns in "Red" Saxony.

Thus may be summed up today's communist conflagration in Germany—the reaction after two weeks of peaceful union of the political factions which followed the return to Berlin from the London reparations conference of Foreign Minister Walter Simons.

While Saxony was the scene of most of today's violence and bloodshed, the seizures of the Blohm and Voss shipyards and the municipal buildings in Hamburg by communist workmen is taken as the most important and the most sinister of the day's Red manifestations.

Hoist Lenin's Standard.

After occupying the great plant and the public buildings the communists raised over them the red flag of soviet Russia. In the administration building they established a soviet, driving out the labor union councils.

At noon the workers in the other shipyards and from the Hamburg docks quit their posts and thousands attended a great massmeeting held under the auspices of the leaders of the communist uprising.

Dispatches received in Berlin from Hamburg tonight declared that the communists still were in control. There had been no report of violence there, nor was it stated that any attempts to oust the rebels had been made.

Officials of the German government refused tonight to comment upon the situation or the probable course of action to be taken to restore order.

Wreck Leipsic Courthouse.

One of the most serious reports of violence came from Leipsic, where a terrific blast in the courthouse blew the roof from that edifice and damaged buildings for blocks around. Bombs were used in Dresden, the capital of Saxony, as well as in a number of other Saxon cities in attacks on postoffices, courthouses, and city halls.

In the region of Halle a passenger train was wrecked and a score of travelers were injured.

At Zauerbach the courthouse was bombed.

Paper Foments Rebellion.

While no direct connection with Russia has been unearthed by the police, it is believed today's sensational happenings had their genesis in a series of inflammatory articles which appeared recently in a Berlin soviet organ called The Red Flag.

Gravest fears are being expressed in Berlin tonight that today's disturbances may be followed tomorrow by increased violence, and in all quarters it is declared that the German government will find itself in a precarious situation if the demonstrations spread.

While no detailed reports of deaths or injuries sustained in today's outrages have been received here, it is thought likely that blood has been shed freely.

"Wilson's Bureaucracy" Condemned by Lowden

Berkeley, Cal., March 23.—"The federal bureaucracy built up by President Wilson during the war must be broken down at once if the rights and liberty of the American people are to be protected under a true democratic form of government," said Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, in his charter day address at the University of California today. Mr. Lowden spoke before several thousand students and visitors assembled in the Greek theater to celebrate the fifty-third birthday of the university.

BERLIN, March 23.—Polish troops have crossed the border and entered a part of the zone which voted in favor of Poland in the Upper Silesian plebiscite, seized the government, and issued a proclamation claiming the territory in the name of the Polish republic, according to dispatches published in the Berlin newspapers today. Birkenthal has been occupied, and the inhabitants are fleeing from Kattowitz and Myslowitz.

POLAND GIVEN MANDATE

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

OPPELN, March 23.—Poland has been intrusted by the allied powers with a mandate to occupy Upper Silesia in the event of a German insurrection or of an attempt by Teuton organizers to provoke a civil war.

England and Italy consented to granting the mandate after the discovery of hidden supplies of arms and revolutionary plans in Strelitz, Pless, and other districts.

At first France alone demanded that a mandate be given Poland while the British and Italians preferred to leave the responsibility of maintaining order to the German government.

It is no secret in official plebiscite circles that a Polish army is held in readiness to cross the frontier the moment they are given notice.

DEATH HOVERING OVER CARDINAL GIBBONS' COUCH

Baltimore, Md., March 23.—Practically all hope for the recovery of Cardinal Gibbons was given up at midnight by Dr. Charles O'Donovan and other physicians at the archiepiscopal residence.

Since early tonight the physicians had been expecting the cardinal's death momentarily. He lapsed into a state of coma late in the afternoon. They are doubtful whether he will recover consciousness.

About 9 o'clock tonight it was noted that the cardinal's pulse grew stronger. Even this failed to revive hope of his recovery, because of the extreme weakness resulting from his illness in December.

It was thought possible but not probable that he might live through several days in his unconscious condition.

GUY IS NOT MY SON; IS GUIDE'S, STILLMAN SAYS

Wife Will Fight to a Finish, She Vows.

White Plains, N. Y., March 23.—[Special.]—That the Stillman divorce case is going to be a fight to a finish was indicated by the latest development tonight. The disclosure was the climax to a day replete with sensational—and for the first time—official charges and countercharges, made openly in Justice Morschauser's court.

Late this evening it was learned that Mrs. "Fifi" Potter Stillman had filed, among a mass of similar documents, a sworn statement in which she solemnly and completely denied each and every one of the accusations made by her multimillionaire husband.

Embodied in the affidavit was a frank announcement of her intention to reply in kind to the bank president's allegation that her baby, Guy, is not his son, but the offspring of a half-breed Indian guide, by entering an "affirmative defense," which is composed of counter-charges involving Mr. Stillman and the chorus "chicken"—Mrs. Flo Leeds and her infant, Jay Leeds.

Mrs. Stillman's Defiance.

The affidavit, whose contents became known tonight, says:

"I have read the statements of these witnesses as to the occurrences in Canada. I repeat the denial here and solemnly deny under oath each and every one of the said statements made by each of these witnesses, before the referee as to my behavior with a certain co-respondent named by said witnesses.

"I also wish to add that it is my intention seriously to contest on the trial of this action the allegations contained in the plaintiff's complaint as to any adultery alleged to have been committed by me with anybody at any time."

Helpless Babies Involved.

The opening gun in the amazing domestic litigation between the head of one of America's greatest banking institutions and his wife, was fired here this morning; and it at once became apparent to every one present in the courtroom that the future good fame or shameful name of two helpless babies hinged on the outcome.

In the Wall street financier's formal reply to his wife's plea for $10,000 a month alimony and $75,000 counsel fees, Delancy Nicoll, his chief counsel, bluntly charged Mrs. Stillman with wrongdoing, the result of which stigmatized her 28 month old baby with illegitimacy, and forever and completely disinherited him.

Thus, the heart of the entire proceedings was laid bare to the public's gaze. It will be months before this phase of the affair is legally settled; because the referee will have to take testimony and review all angles of the case. Meanwhile the banker's lawyer offered, and Justice Morschauser said he would grant on Monday ample alimony to Mrs. Stillman.

Basis for Banker's Suit.

The mental processes which led to the action of Mr. Stillman in placing his wife upon the public pillory, linking her name with that of Fred Beauvais, were hinted at by Mr. Nicoll.

Mr. Nicoll said that Mr. Stillman considered it his duty to his father's memory and to the rest of his family to disown this child, which he believed to be the son of the Indian guide. The banker was willing to place his own position in jeopardy to lift this stain from the family name.

He ignored the vulnerable spot in his own armor because of this strong sense of family duty.

Papers were filed by Stillman's attorneys bringing the charges against Mrs. Stillman in detail, and the first skirmish of the case proved that it would be a fight to the finish.

Letters Obtained by Stealth.

Among documents filed, it was said, were six letters from Beauvais to Mrs. Stillman, which came into possession of the plaintiff in some manner not yet disclosed, but which lawyers in Mrs. Stillman's employ said were obtained by stealth by Mr. Stillman's agent, either at the Stillman country home at Pocantico Hills or at the Stillman lodge at Three Rivers, Quebec.

These letters were said to be couched in the most endearing terms and to sustain, in the opinion of Mr. Stillman's attorneys, the main charge against Mrs. Stillman—that Beauvais is the father of Guy Stillman.

The letters are reported to mention "our child" and refer to the "joys of fatherhood."

A person who has read the letters said that they were written with amazing frankness and expressed a longing on the part of the writer to see the recipient again.

The threatened alimony fight flattened out when Mr. Stillman's attorneys presented affidavits showing that his income last year was $536,000, and declared that he was willing to allow any reasonable sum to his wife pending the settlement.

Seven attorneys were in court when the case was called. The jury box was filled with newspaper correspondents. Deputy sheriffs were stationed at the doors to keep the room from being too overcrowded.

Mr. Nicoll brought the vital feature of the case—the baby—into the argument early in the hearing. During the discussion regarding alimony, he said:

"Mr. Stillman's position in this case is this: He believes, and the evidence already before your honor proves, that the gentlewoman he married, and who was the mother of his three children, took as her lover an Indian guide."

Defense Lawyer Protests.

John F. Brennan, attorney for Mrs. Stillman, objected.

"Why not?" Mr. Nicoll asked. Mr. Brennan said it had no relevancy.

The court interjected to say that he did not care to go into the case except as to alimony amount and the justification of the case on the part of the plaintiff.

Mr. Nicoll referred to the evidence of six witnesses, who had testified before Referee Gleason, and then continued:

"Now the evidence shows that this criminal intimacy began as early as 1916 and continued after the infant was born and through 1919. Mr. Stillman therefore feels it to be his duty to his father's memory and to his family and to his children to press that matter to a conclusion.

Felt He Had to File Charges.

"Had it been possible to have ascertained the illegitimacy of the child in any other form of proceeding he would have welcomed that course. But under our code there is no other way except by bringing suit, making the wife and the child the parties co-defendant.

"I don't know what must be the feelings of a husband and a father whose mind is poisoned with the suspicion that his wife and the mother of his children has yielded to the embraces of his Indian guide, but I can well understand his refusal to credit such an incredible thing for a long time—even after his wife in a moment of hysteria made that implication herself by confessing her guilt."

In the matter of temporary alimony and counsel fees, Mr. Nicoll said:

"Mr. Stillman has no desire to be anything but fair and generous. He recognizes that she must defend herself and that the legitimacy of the child must be defended and that she is privileged to press her accusations against him.

Entitled to Luxuries.

"During such a period she is entitled to a sum of money which will enable her to live in comfort and reasonable luxury, for such is the language of the textbooks and the cases.

"Now, what shall that sum be? The largest sum ever granted by any court in this state was in the Gould case, where I had the honor of representing Mr. Gould. There Mrs. Gould asked for exactly the sum which is asked here—$120,000 the year. The judge allowed her $25,000 and $5,000 counsel fees. I assume that your honor, if governed by the precedent, would confine yourself to that sum."

Here John E. Mack, guardian of Guy Stillman, jumped into the case. He said nothing had been proven against the boy's legitimacy.

Mr. Brennan explained that Mrs. Stillman asked for the custody of the children and said that Mr. Stillman had set the scale of expenditures at which his wife and family should be maintained at $100,000 a year. Based on that, he asked alimony of $10,000 a month. It was shown that in the last eight months Mr. Stillman has contributed more than $26,000 to the maintenance of his children and $40,000 in alimony for his wife.

Judge Defends the Baby.

At this point Justice Morchauser interrupted.

"There is one thing that you both overlook," he said. "The mother stands for the legitimacy of the child. The father is attacking it.

"Now, the most important thing to me at this time is the question of the parentage of the child.

"I have heard from neither one of you upon that subject, whether or not the allowance of counsel fees should be of such an amount, leaving the alimony out—I will take care of that myself with what I have and what I am going to see from you—should not I consider that in making that award at this time, taking into consideration the attacks made on the child and the defense it needs at this time?"

The court directed that papers in the case be filed with Charles Decker, clerk, and said that, of course, they could not be opened now. He said that the case was a public matter and "of such importance to all of you that we should be open and aboveboard."

With the decision by Justice Morschauser on Monday on the alimony issue the decks will be cleared for Referee Gleason to resume testimony of Mr. Stillman's witnesses. The hearings will continue secretly. The next steps will be for the referee to compile the mass of testimony of both sides and make a recommendation to the court.

Then it is up to the court to enter the referee's recommendation as a court order, providing he finds after study of the evidence that the recommendation is consistent.

If the court refuses Mr. Stillman a divorce and clears Mrs. Stillman of the charges of having an Indian guide for a lover, then Guy Stillman will be automatically cleared and declared the son of James A. Stillman.

If the charges of Mrs. Stillman are sustained, Jay Leeds, 30 month old son of "Mrs. Florence Leeds," will be automatically declared the illegitimate son of Mr. Stillman and the former chorus girl.

La Tuque, Que., March 23.—[Special.]—Those citizens of this town who made affidavits supporting James A. Stillman's application for divorce in New York in December and January of this winter, have been notified that their presence to testify in open court in May will be required by the Stillman legal staff.

Mrs. Joe Grenon, who accompanied her husband, proprietor of the local restaurant, to New York in December, volunteered this information today.

Of Mrs. Grenon, it was said Monday by Mme. Gregoire Guigere, that she had testified to climbing a ladder at "Stillness" and seeing two persons, one of whom had discarded a gown belonging to Mrs. Stillman, in a second floor bedchamber.

Denies She Testified.

Mrs. Grenon denied that she had testified. Grenon said his testimony amounted to eight pages.

The reporter's day has included visits to Storekeeper Joe Page, another of the Stillman witnesses, and to the Saint Maurice Fishing and Shooting club on Big Lake Wayagamac, where Louis Beauvais and his wife, parents of Fred Beauvais, are acting as winter caretakers of the club premises.

We met old Louis Beauvais riding a gasoline rail scooter down the disused tracks of an old railway, which our drivers had selected as the only road of approach to winterlocked Lake Wayagamac.

We were hailed in perfect English. The elder Beauvais speaks three languages well—French, English, and the speech of the ancient Iroquois, whose blood flows in his veins. He chuckled with amusement when he said:

"My son has been getting himself a lot of notoriety down in New York."

Mrs. Beauvais, blue-gray eyed Yankee woman, who toils as cook of the club, is apparently more depressed. She studied her New York visitors scornfully, and mutely gestured refusal to discuss Fred's affairs.

Houses at Span to Tell City's Early History.

Two gifts of $50,000 each, announced yesterday, will help to make the new Michigan avenue bridge with its approaches one of the show places of the world and a link between the Chicago of today and the village of the historic past.

The $50,000 gifts were made by William Wrigley Jr., owner of the Wrigley building, at the north entrance of the bridge, and by the Ferguson fund trustees. They were announced through Charles H. Wacker, chairman of the Chicago Plan commission. Mr. Wacker also announced that Mr. Wrigley had already agreed, at the suggestion of the plan commission, to spend an extra $20,000 to beautify the entrance to his building.

Commemorate City's History.

The $100,000 is to be devoted to the building of appropriate bridge houses, the steel structures for which have already been completed at the four corners of the bridge. The plan is to make the bridge houses not only architectually beautiful, but also historically significant. This latter is possible because two of the bridge houses are in the immediate vicinity of two of the city's most historic sites.

Near the bridge house at the northeast corner is the spot where stood the first house constructed by a white man in Chicago. The exact site of this building is now occupied by the Kirk soap factory, in the wall of which has been set a bronze tablet on which the fact is set forth.

Mr. Wacker Discusses Gifts.

Speaking of the plans for the beautification of the bridge and its approaches, Mr. Wacker said:

"Not only for the direct result, but also for its influence toward the finer and better city of the future, do we value these public spirited benefactions. They cannot fail to point the way to others who will be called upon to aid in embellishing the improved South Water street. Decorative features and sculpture must be provided to make the Chicago river attractive like European water courses, and an object of beauty instead of ugliness.

"This treatment of public thoroughfares will raise the standard of private architecture. It will have a decisive influence on the character of the buildings along Michigan avenue from Randolph street to Chicago avenue, as well as along South Water street.

Rival World's Historic Streets.

"Michigan avenue and South Water street, connected and beautified, will become as widely known as the Place de la Concorde in Paris, Trafalgar Square and Hyde Park in London, the Ringstrasse in Vienna, and Unter den Linden in Berlin.

"Such accomplishment in the future will be only a logical continuation of the record of the past, because the history of Chicago is replete with achievements. The growth in eighty-four years, within the span of an extended life, from a swampy Indian village to a city of nearly 3,000,000 people, is in itself almost a miracle. The world knows no parallel."

ALLIES TAKE UP BERLIN REFUSAL TO PAY WAR BILL

PARIS, March 23.—The allied reparations commission met here today to consider Germany's reply to the allied demands in which the Berlin government refuses to pay the 1,000,000,000 marks gold due today and disputes the commission's figures showing a balance of 12,000,000,000 marks due May 1.

The Germans' failure to pay is deemed a violation of the treaty of Versailles, which the commission will report to the allied governments. The allies will then determine what measures shall be taken.

It is commented here that the German experts already have been heard by the commission, which listened to their arguments before fixing the valuation of the German deliveries credited as payments against the 20,000,000,000 marks.

U. S. LISTS RENT WAR FLATS; TAX DODGERS HUNTED

Some Landlords Admit "Error" in Income.

A new method for locating landlords who failed to list rent increases in their income tax schedules was employed yesterday by agents of the department of internal revenue when they began making a list of apartment buildings in which "rent war signs" are displayed.

This list will supplement one prepared from several hundred letters received from tenants. Before the investigation ends, officials predict, the schedules of 500 owners of apartment buildings will be scrutinized.

"It is not necessary that we have the landlord's name in order to check up on his tax return," Chief Field Deputy Collector O'Brien explained. "The address is sufficient. That is why we have sent a squad of men over the city to list the apartments where rent wars are on."

Some Landlords Repent.

Since the investigation of the schedules filed by landlords was inaugurated a number of owners have voluntarily appeared, it was said, and explained they had made mistakes in filling out the returns.

Revenue officials have not announced what will be the disposition made of such cases. Failure to make a correct return is punishable by a heavy fine.

The office of Jacob Popper, deputy collector, was crowded yesterday with several hundred alien residents who had read of the apprehension in Canada of aliens leaving the United States without having obtained tax clearance. During the day more than $1,000 in delinquent taxes were collected.

Say Unions Fight Rent Law.

Victory in the high rent war was predicted yesterday by both landlords and tenants.

Real estate men declared they believe that the Kessinger city rent commission bill will be killed in the house, despite its passage in the senate. They said one of the causes of its death in the house will be the influence exerted by leaders of the Building Trades council of Chicago.

E. A. Potter, business manager of the league, took issue with the statement of the real estate men that the Building Trades council is opposed to the Kessinger bill.

"I don't doubt that a few of them are against it, but that is because they are landlords," said Mr. Potter. The rank and file of the building trades are also renters, and are as much in need of this legislation as any of the white collared workers."

R. B. Chapman, 2464 Geneva terrace, was one of numerous persons who complained against rent profiteers yesterday. The building is said to be held in the name of Julia O'Donnell, who is holding it for Simon O'Donnell, former president of the Chicago Building Trades council. He resigned to enter the real estate business. The present rent for apartments is $17.50, and $125 a month, beginning May 1, is demanded.

DETECTIVE HERO DIES A MARTYR

SLAYER KILLS OFFICER; CITY COMBED IN HUNT

Foley, O'Connor's sister, came to the door. At the same time O'Connor darted from the rear door, buttoning his overcoat. He leaped the fence. Then he ran across some vacant lots to Sixty-fourth street and Western avenue, caught a Checker cab, and was driven south.

Hunt Slayer's Chauffeur

Besides ordering all automobiles and pedestrians in the immediate neighborhood searched, Chief Fitzmorris sent a general order over the police wires to search every Checker cab in the city to find the man who drove O'Connor away from the crime scene.

The chief then arrested the Foleys and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Connor Sr., who were in the house when the shooting occurred.

"O'Connor's clothes were found in his bedroom. So also were found two brand new holsters and an ammunition belt with about forty rounds of ammunition. O'Connor is said to be carrying two guns, one a .32 caliber, the other a .45.

Shot Grazes Mrs. O'Connor.

Mrs. O'Connor, Tommy's mother, displayed a slight cut on the neck after the officers had broken into the house. "That came from a copper's bullet," she remarked.

O'Connor is known to the police as one of the "toughest eggs" walking the streets of Chicago. His record as a bad man includes trials on two other murder charges, one of an aged railroad conductor, the other of Cherin.

Sergt. O'Neill was 43 years old on March 17. He lived with his wife and three children at 610 West Fifty-first place. His home was recently purchased—it is not yet paid for.

On Force Fourteen Years.

O'Neill joined the police department fourteen years ago. Since that time his record has been clean and has been filled with heroic exploits. He captured Lieut. Carl Wanderer. Alone and unaided he captured the slayer of Capt. Peterson, a lake boat captain, while the murderer was eating in a restaurant on North Wells street.

"PADDY" O'NEILL, THE VICTIM, was known to his brother officers and to the underworld as "a dead game copper." When there was dangerous work to be done, O'Neill could be relied upon to be in the front line of attack. When O'Connor came from the rear door of his home, it was O'Neill, standing on the ground directly beneath him, whose position was the most exposed. The outlaw fired five shots, the fifth of which inflicted a mortal wound. O'Neill died half an hour after he fell.

"TOMMY" O'CONNOR, the killer, wanted in connection with the death of his pal, Jimmy Cherin, whose bullet riddled body was tossed out of a motor car on a lonely road near Chicago several months ago. The state's most important witness against O'Connor was "kidnaped" just before the date set for the trial, but was found by reporters for The Tribune, who turned him over to the state's attorney's office. The prosecutor began immediate preparations to press the case against O'Connor, only to find O'Connor had vanished.

BUILDING 'TRUST' INQUIRY TO BEGIN HERE TOMORROW

Rent Commission Bill Appears Doomed.

BY ARTHUR M. EVANS.

Springfield, Ill., March 23.—The legislature is all set to wade into building conditions in Chicago, just as did the Lockwood commission in New York.

The Dailey joint committee, established today after final adoption of a resolution which had been hanging fire, will meet at the Hotel La Salle Friday morning. It is instructed to make inquiry into combinations and agreements among builders, material men, and building craftsmen which may "result in maintaining or raising the cost of constructing dwelling houses and other buildings."

Restrictive policies will be delved into wherever they are found to exist, whether in the form of "unreasonable" rules of unions which load unproductive labor upon the building bill, or "gentlemen's" agreements among supply men for control of markets. A bill was introduced tonight appropriating $50,000 for the committee's expenses.

Kessinger Bill Doomed.

On the heels of the creation of the Dailey inquisition, a quite well defined sentiment as to the probable disposition o fother bills affecting tenants menaced by gouging landlords bubbled to the surface. Inside talks with leaders in both branches indicated the following prevailing opinion:

The Kessinger bill, enabling cities to establish commissions to fix "just and reasonable rents," will not get through. If passed in the senate, it will be killed in the house—the familiar "scissors" play.

The Kessinger bill, allowing a six months' stay of execution in eviction cases, will be passed after an amendment making it apply to cities and villages, thus exempting farm land.

The Kessinger bill removing the double penalty for a tenant who holds over will go through.

These two last laws are expected to get a two-thirds vote. It is planned to attach an emergency clause making them effective May 1. In themselves they are regarded as a potential relief for tenants.

Here's Dailey Committee.

SENATE.	HOUSE.
John Dailey, Peoria.	Fred J. Bippus, Chicago.
John T. Denvir, Chicago.	W. J. Pierce, Belvidere.
W. H. Cornwell, Chicago.	Sidney Lyons, Chicago.
P. J. Sullivan, Chicago.	John Devine, Dixon.
Harold C. Kessinger, Aurora.	Frank Ryan, Chicago.
J. D. Turnbaugh, Mt. Carroll.	Charles Curren, Mound City.
Thurlow Essington, Streator.	R. E. Wilson, Chicago.

The committee tonight elected Mr. Dailey chairman and Mr. Devine secretary. T. B. Scouten is sergeant at arms. It is to report to the present general assembly and recommend such legislation as it deems fit. It has full powers to subpoena witnesses, examine them under oath and bring in any books, papers, documents it deems necessary.

CITES 100% RENT BOOSTS

The final hearing on the Kessinger rent commission bill today found only a corporal's guard of senators in the chamber. Little new stuff was introduced beyond the filing of 500 cases by A. E. Jessurun, secretary of the Chicago Tenants' Protective league, in which rents have been boosted 100 per cent and more in Chicago.

Since last week an apparent change of sentiment has set in, especially among downstate legislators. When the unbiased observer talks with them now, they invariably raise the question of "encroachment" upon private property rights.

Tenants Meet Arguments.

This argument is met by proponents of the measure with the counter theory that the supply of domiciles in Chicago is stationary and the demand is growing; that speculators and "shoestring" operators have taken advantage to get small equities and then unload at fancy figures on widows with insurance money to invest, or upon Iowa and Kansas farmers, who want to trade acres for flats, the unloading being at a price based upon gouging the tenants when leases expire.

Cites Nine Objections.

Nine objections against the bill were presented by Joseph K. Brittain, president of the Illinois Real Estate association, including:

"It would discourage building operations, continue the present shortage in houses, increase taxation, and congestion, and contribute to unemployment.

"The real remedy is more building."

WASHINGTON NEWS —IN BRIEF—

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 23.

Peace in the packing industry was established today and the threatened strike of stockyards employés averted by a settlement reached through the mediation of Secretary of Labor Davis, by which the employés accept the wage reductions put into effect by the packers last week and the packers agree to the restoration of the basic eight hour day and overtime rates and to the continuation until Sept. 15, 1921, of the arbitration system of settling disputes.

The appeal of the soviet government for resumption of trade relations is receiving the consideration of the administration, in view of the announced intention of the Russian communists to abandon their attempts to undermine the governments of other nations in order to substitute everywhere the rule of the proletariat.

SEES RUIN FOR FRANCE IF FOE DOES NOT PAY

Paris Paper Says Nation Nears Disaster.

BY HENRY WALES.

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, March 23.—"Unless Germany pays what she owes us France is ruined," admits the Journal des Debats in an editorial tonight, commenting on the report of the finance commission which was submitted to the French senate by M. Henry Cheron, the chairman of the commission.

For the coming year France must raise 36,000,000,000 francs (normally about $7,200,000,000) to cover the deficiency between expenses of 58,000,000,000 francs ($11,600,000,000) and resources of 22,000,000,000 francs ($4,400,000,000), M. Cheron warned his colleagues.

He said the French debt on March 1 totaled 302,000,000,000 francs ($60,400,000,000), against 30,000,000,000 francs ($6,000,000,000) before the war.

For Reconstruction Work.

Besides this stupendous debt, he said, there are the 358,000,000,000 francs ($71,600,000,000) needed annually for the reconstruction of the devastated regions and war pensions, which France hopes to obtain from Germany but which even the Paris reparations agreement, which Dr. Simons rejected, does not cover.

State ownership of the railways, postal service, telegraph and telephone lines was said to result in huge deficits, and the eight hour labor law, which was said to cost the railways an extra 1,000,000,000 francs ($200,000,000) annually, was bitterly criticised. M. Cheron said the government loses 600,000,000 francs alone ($120,000,000) through operating the telephone system.

Has 700,000 Employés.

The vast army of civil servants, numbering 700,000 for a population of 37,000,000, was violently attacked by M. Cheron, who demanded that hordes of government employés be dismissed.

Only 550,000 French persons are directly taxed annually, and the indirect tax revenues are more than evened up by the cost of machinery and personnel used for collecting them, he said.

M. Cheron warned against the floating of further loans, because they depreciate the exchange, ruin business, and permit foreign speculation.

Must Hold Germany.

The sole solution, he suggested, is the holding of Germany strictly to the reparation clauses in the treaty of Versailles, despite the fact that even if Germany paid the most exorbitant indemnity which France could conceive French finances would remain in a desperate condition.

The Journal des Debats closes its remarks on M. Cheron's report by saying that Germans drank 500,000 marks (normally about $125,000) worth of champagne at a celebration in Bremen one night.

PARIS SENDING A REPLY.

PARIS, March 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—The reparations commission has considered the German statement regarding the nonpayment of the 1,000,000,000 gold marks today, the date fixed by the allies for payment, and is forwarding a communication to the German government, according to official announcement. This communication will be delivered in Berlin tomorrow.

BRITAIN READY TO TALK PEACE WITH IRISHMEN

May Retain Arms, Says Lloyd George.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, March 23.—A debate upon the Irish situation between Prime Minister Lloyd George, Herbert Asquith, and Francis Dyke Acland, in which the latter appealed for a magnanimous offer to Ireland before Easter, featured the session of the house of commons today.

Former Premier Asquith's part in the debate was an attack upon the government's policy of repression, which, he said, had been in effect for six months without making any progress.

Mr. Lloyd George stoutly defended his Irish policies, and at the same time declared that the government was ready at any time to discuss peace with any persons competent to speak for all Ireland along the principles he laid down months ago.

Wants Whole Story Told.

"The government," he said, "has never said it would not negotiate with responsible Irish leaders unless previously there had been surrender of arms on the part of every one in Ireland.

"Unfortunately many such incorrect statements have been published in Ireland and America, but the official contradictions never find place.

"I have said times without number, both inside the house and out, that if responsible leaders of Irish opinion and, of course, elected representatives of the Irish people, were desirous of discussing the future government of Ireland with the government of this country, we were perfectly prepared to deal with them.

"The only exception the government ever has made had to do with people who are charged with crime. I have said repeatedly there were but a few such people with whom we could not treat. There are only three or four, and I am prepared to tell their names.

"Who Wants Irish Republic?"

"Then there are certain things to which the British government cannot agree. One of these is an Irish republic.

"Who is there in the house who would agree to a separate, independent Irish republic?"

"I have been told the Irish themselves do not want it. If this is so, why do they not come out and say so?"

With regard to desirability of a generous offer to Ireland before Easter, Mr. Acland declared:

"We should not be blind to the views of the world on this subject. It is Ireland that prevents America from giving us warm hearted friendship and I desire to emphasize the fact that the future of world peace depends upon the closest cooperation between the two great English speaking peoples."

RAPS AMERICAN PRESS.

LONDON, March 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—Replying to Mr. Asquith's indictment of the government in connection with the executions at Mountjoy prison and elsewhere as bringing disgrace and shame upon England in the United States, Mr. Lloyd George said in the house of commons today that two of the men executed at Mountjoy were murderers and that the other four were engaged in an ambush to kill policemen; they were taken with arms, bombs, and soft nosed bullets in their possession.

The premier gave similar details of the other cases adduced and argued that Mr. Asquith himself could have taken no other course, had he been in power, than the government had taken.

"I venture to say," he went on, "that the American papers, while quoting Mr. Asquith's statements, will not publish the facts I am now stating."

TAPS FOR THE "POOR BOOB"

CARL WANDERER'S VICTIM found a friend yesterday in death who had never known him in life. The friend is Barney Clamage (at right), a saloonkeeper, who asked permission of the authorities to bury the body of the murdered youth outside the potter's field. Warden Michael Zimmer of the county hospital is shown handing Clamage the burial permit. Several futile efforts to identify the "poor boob's" body have been made. Judge David, who will shortly sentence the slayer to the gallows, will be asked to speak at the funeral of Wanderer's victim. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

HOBOS' FRIEND WILL BURY "BOOB" WANDERER SLEW

Potter's field will not get the body of "the ragged stranger," the "poor boob" for whose death Carl Wanderer must hang. The body will be buried in Glen Oak cemetery, after a funeral, with flowers and perhaps mourners.

Barney Clamage, a saloonkeeper at 500 South Halsted street, who has befriended many a "ragged stranger," yesterday appealed to Clayton F. Smith, a candidate for city treasurer, for permission to bury the body. Warden Michael Zimmer of the county hospital and Coroner Hoffman granted his request.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. at the chapel at 1820 West Harrison street. The Salvation Army will furnish pallbearers. Mrs. Andrew Barry will sing "Abide With Me." Mrs. Bradley, wife of the undertaker, will play the organ.

Mr. Clamage yesterday gave the undertaker $250 to take care of the rest of it—the flowers, good clothes, the casket, the carriages.

"I have been in the saloon business for years in a neighborhood where there are hundreds of homeless men—'ragged strangers,' just like this one," Mr. Clamage said. "I know these men better than most persons know them. To most people they are just plain bums. To me they are human beings who have simply been unfortunate."

The saloonkeeper looked into the still, white face of the "boob."

"He was a kind young fellow, too, wasn't he?" he finished.

Think Right

Much is being said about business today. "Conditions must improve, because they couldn't be worse," is a frequent remark. Pessimists will be pessimists. But after all is said and done, isn't our trouble largely mental? "As a man thinketh, so is he." So let us have faith in our faith; if there are those who must doubt, let them doubt their doubts. This is the time to think right and act right.

REBELS IN ERIN SLAY SOLDIERS; FREE PRISONERS

Home Rule Act in Force April 19.

BULLETIN.

DUBLIN, March 23.—(By the Associated Press.)—Twenty-four persons were killed and nearly thirty wounded in ambuscades reported today.

BY JOHN LESTER.

[Copyright: 1921: By The Chicago Tribune.]

DUBLIN, March 23.—A sensational rescue of Irish prisoners took place this evening in County Roscommon. A military party was proceeding towards Longford in two lorries, when it was ambushed by Irish forces near Strokestown. Capt. Peel of the Ninth lancers and four soldiers were shot dead and several of the soldiers, including Lieut. Tenant, were wounded. The Irish attacked from both sides of the road and when the troops were overcome the prisoners that they had with them were taken away.

Two fights took place at Ballyporeen, County Tipperary, last night. No casualties were reported, but several shops were burned by the police later as a reprisal.

Court Martial Constables.

Five English constables were court martialed today, charged with stealing money from women in Killarney. Several witnesses testified the accused entered their homes with drawn revolvers, and, after robbing them, fired through the windows. The court martial findings were not announced.

Eight Sinn Feiners Killed.

DUBLIN, March 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—A police inspector and eight men were ambushed near Dingle yesterday and the fight that ensued, lasting three hours, ended disastrously for the attacking party, eight of whom were killed and twenty wounded, according to an official announcement here today. Three of the police were slightly wounded, it was added.

Police Sergeant Coghlin was killed and three policemen were severely wounded in an ambuscade near Karrow Kennedy, County Mayo, last night.

Six Civilians Killed.

CORK, March 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—Six civilians were killed in the Blarney district, County Cork, this morning in a battle which ensued when crown forces were fired upon from a farmhouse. The military were conducting a search for wanted men when they were attacked.

A farmer's house at Clogheen was surrounded by crown forces last evening. A number of young men, it is reported, were taken out of the house and ordered to run for their lives. They were fired upon, four of them being shot dead. The others escaped.

"ICEBOX LOVE NEST? ABSURD!"

MRS. SYLVIA PALMER.

MRS. SYLVIA PALMER, wife of University of Illinois professor, who yesterday on witness stand denied husband's story that Carl Carlson, Champaign butcher, had fitted up his butcher shop ice box as a luxurious love rendezvous. For the sake of his alma mater the professor has given up his fight for a divorce, his lawyer announced, and will permit his wife to get the decree. This means the world will be denied the full details of the "ice box romance" and the professor's promised revelations of gay life in the university city.

PALMER GIVES UP DIVORCE FIGHT FOR ALMA MATER

'Icebox Love Nest' Story Absurd, Wife Says.

Loyalty to the university which gave him a degree and a place on its faculty yesterday caused Prof. Cyrus C. Palmer of the University of Illinois to absent himself from a hearing in Judge Sabath's court on the famous "icebox romance" divorce case.

Mrs. Sylvia C. Palmer instituted divorce action against him last August on cruelty grounds. He answered with a cross bill in which he accused her of an "icebox romance" in the Champaign butcher shop owned by Carl Carlson. He also promised to unfold a scandal story of the university's social life.

Alma Mater Comes First.

Attorney Robert P. Burkhalter acted as spokesman for the professor in court yesterday.

"My client's university holds a bigger place in his heart than does his desire to win this suit," he said. "Therefore, rather than give his school further publicity by continuing his fight, he is willing to give Mrs. Palmer her decree and a lump sum alimony of $1,500."

Mrs. Palmer took the witness stand and told of a police raid conduoted by Palmer on his home in Champaign. The raid was made June 18, 1920, the day of their separation.

"I was alone in the house at 10 o'clock at night," she said, "when the police rapped on the door. My husband was with them and they proceeded to search the house.

Search House for Butcher.

"It was terribly humiliating. Capt. Richards stationed a man underneath my bedroom window. My husband led them through all the rooms looking for some man who wasn't there."

"Whom were they looking for?" asked Judge Sabath.

"Mr. Carlson, I believe."

"Where was he?"

"At home. My husband called to satisfy himself."

The judge then asked Mrs. Palmer whether the charges made in her husband's cross bill were true.

"Am I to believe that this Mr. Carlson had an ice box fitted up as a room?" he asked.

"Absolutely not," said the witness. "It is absurd."

Tells of "School Teacher."

She accused her husband of "losing his temper" and striking her. On returning to the Palmer home last summer, after a visit to her mother, she said she found the professor had been "entertaining a school teacher." She also complained of her husband's fraternity brothers following her.

SONG WRITER BACK TO JAIL.

Jack Harrell, song writer and singer, was ordered to pay his wife Margery $8 a week yesterday by Judge Holmes after the story of their troubles had been related in the Court of Domestic Relations. The judge also required him to put up a $500 cash bond and when he was unable to do so ordered him returned to jail.

U. S. STUDIES RED RUSSIA'S BID FOR TRADE RENEWAL

Soviet Says It Won't Destroy America.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—The Harding administration has begun serious consideration of the resumption of trade relations, if not diplomatic relations, with Russia.

For the first time, the soviet government has officially disavowed any intention of interfering in American internal affairs. It was the proclaimed campaign of the Russian Communists to overthrow by force, if necessary, the governments of the United States and other nations and substitute the rule of the proletariat, which has constituted one of the chief impediments to recognition of the soviet government.

Won't Overthrow U. S.!

In the soviet appeal to the United States to resume trade relations, the text of which was issued by the state department today, there appears this statement:

"The soviet republic, entirely absorbed in the work of internal reconstruction of building up its economic life, has not the intention of intervening in the internal affairs of America and the all-Russian central executive committee makes herewith a categorical declaration to this effect."

In view of Lenin's assertion at one time that the soviet government would not hesitate to repudiate promises made to gain immediate ends it remains to be seen whether this disavowal of the world-wide Red campaign will satisfy the administration.

Wilson an Unrelenting Foe.

President Wilson was bent upon destroying the soviet régime and regarded the refusal to have any relations therewith a potent means to that end. Whether the Harding administration indorses this attitude has not been disclosed.

FRENCH SENATE IN HOT DEBATE OVER U. S. DEBT

PARIS, March 23.—[By the Associated Press.]—The question whether America had ever repaid the advances to her made by Louis XVI. of France during the American revolution, raised recently by a writer in the newspaper L'Eclair, was brought up in the senate during last night's debate on the budget by Senator Gaudin de Villaine, representing the department of La Manche.

"I said last year from this rostrum," the senator declared, "that Louis XVI., in 1778, in the name of the French nation and to save the young American republic, had loaned America 800,000,000 francs."

Senator Gaudin de Villaine calculated that at 3 per cent this sum now would exceed 37,000,000,000 francs, or sufficient not only to pay what France owes to America, but also what France owes to England.

"A Washington telegram, replying within the last twenty-four hours to the point of which you speak, gives the dates at which this debt was repaid," interrupted Senator Brangier.

"This debt never has been paid," exclaimed Senator Gaudin de Villaine.

Small Operating Income for Railways in January

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Estimates made from reports to the interstate commerce commission by the large railroads indicate that final reports by the commission will show that the railroads earned a small net railway operating income in the month of January. Many roads, however, had substantial deficits. Earnings in February probably will not be as much as those of January, but improvement is expected from March on.

Bubbles and Sand

It is shaped by twirling the pipe, or blowing the "bubble" inside a mold.

Egyptian pictures of glass blowing show that this method has not been changed essentially in four thousand years.

Plate glass is poured and rolled hot, like a pie crust.

Glass for lenses is cast in pots, broken into pieces, carefully selected, reheated and pressed into blocks, then ground to shape.

FINDS DAUGHTER SUICIDE, MOTHER TAKES OWN LIFE

Mrs. S. A. Fletcher and Parent Die.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 23.—Circumstances surrounding the deaths today of Mrs. Stoughton A. Fletcher, 40, and Mrs. Eva Henley, her mother, at the home of Stoughton A. Fletcher, millionaire sportsman and banker, will be investigated at a formal inquest probably Friday or Saturday, Dr. Paul F. Robinson, coroner of Marion county, announced tonight.

MRS. S. A. FLETCHER.

Dr. Robinson said today the women committed suicide by drinking poison. Mr. Fletcher left for Chicago last night, but returned here this morning.

The body of Mrs. Fletcher was found this morning by her mother, according to Russell Stahl, butler. Stahl said he was summoned by Mrs. Henley, who was bending over her daughter's body. He was ordered to bring a stimulant. When he returned Mrs. Henley had disappeared, Stahl said.

According to Dr. Robinson, Mrs. Henley was found a short time later in her own room in a dying condition and lived only a few minutes.

The coroner said he found a glass containing poison in Mrs. Fletcher's room. He also declared that Mrs. Fletcher had been dead six or seven hours before her body was discovered.

According to the members of the household, Mrs. Fletcher retired to her room last evening and was not seen again until her mother found her body this morning. Mrs. Fletcher had been ill for some time and had been treated by specialists.

Nominations by Party Conventions Asked for N.Y.

Albany, N. Y., March 23.—Nomination of state and judicial officers by party conventions subject to referendum instead of by direct primary is recommended in a report submitted to the senate today by Senators Whitley and Ames of the special joint legislative committee appointed last year to study the election laws. Legislation designed to carry out the recommendation was introduced simultaneously with the report.

SAYS FILIPINOS ARE VICTIMS OF U. S. POLITICS

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

MANILA, March 23.—Considerable opposition to the appointment of W. Cameron Forbes as a member of Gen. Wood's commission to the Philippines is developing in the Nationalist party here. The Philippines Herald, which is regarded as the organ of the younger generation, in an editorial discussing his appointment says:

"What would you think of a law making your opponent in litigation the judge of the case? This is exactly what President Harding is doing by sending Forbes to investigate the administration of former Gov. Francis Burton Harrison. Forbes left the Philippines a much disgusted man and he will want his revenge and his pound of flesh, and the Harrison administration must be sacrificed on the altar of American politics. When their cause is made the football of American politics the Filipinos can only rely on what congress has granted them."

HARDING'S AID AVERTS STRIKE AT STOCKYARDS

pect to work with Secretary Davis and other administration officials in arranging some plan for permanent arbitration in the packing industry."

Mr. Brennan predicted that the agreement would be generally accepted by the packing house employés. It will be explained and debated, he said, at massmeetings on Sunday in Chicago and other packing centers.

The question of union recognition by the packers did not come up during the negotiations, Mr. Brennan stated.

Articles of Settlement.

"In connection with the matter of labor rates and conditions in the packing houses within the Alschuler administration," that letter said, "and agreeable to the conversations which we have had with you during the last few days, we hereby accept your recommendation covering an amicable adjustment of said matters, and an arrangement for the continuation of wages, hours, and working conditions as they existed under the latest Alschuler ruling, subject, however, to the following modifications:

"First—The wage cuts of 8 cents per hour for hourly workers and 12½ per cent for all piece workers shall remain in effect as of the dates announced by the packers and shall not be subject to any further arbitration. If any further reductions are desired, they shall be submitted to the administrator.

"Second—The basic eight hour day and overtime rates as announced in the latest rulings of Judge Alschuler shall be restored, subject, however, to the right of the employers or the employés to submit to the administrator, if they desire, any question as to changes therein.

Pact Ends in September.

"Third—The agreement of Dec. 25, 1917, and extensions thereof and all decisions thereunder (except as herein modified) shall remain in effect until Sept. 15, 1921, at which time the agreement and all awards thereunder and supplements and renewals thereof and understandings connected therewith shall absolutely terminate.

"Fourth—Judeg Samuel Alschuler or his success, as administrator, shall until said date retain and exercise all of the jurisdiction and authority heretofore existing, and the employers and employés shall abide by his decisions in all matters of jurisdiction and powers under the administration, and all subjects of hours, wages, conditions, and adjustments thereof, excepting as hereinbefore set out. The employers and employés shall, however, be permitted to put into operation plans whereby they may develop a method to handle between themselves all matters of mutual interest so long as they do not interfere with the administration."

STATEMENT BY MORRIS.

This statement was issued last night by Nelson Morris, chairman of the board of directors of Morris & Co.:

"The press reports, as read to me, are correct, except that we have not made any agreement with the men, but have renewed with Secretary of Labor Davis for a period of six months the agreement entered into with the former secretary of labor."

GOLDEN WORDS IN BRONZE

DESIGN FOR MEMORIAL TABLET in honor of Lieut. Dinsmore Ely, war hero, which is to be placed in the Winnetka Congregational church.

"LIKE a Liberty bond, it is an investment, not a loss, when a man dies for his country."

These words, written home by Lieut. Dinsmore Ely, son of Dr. James Owen Ely of Winnetka shortly before he was killed in battle, will be carved in bronze on a memorial tablet to be placed on a wall of the Congregational church of Winnetka. The design has just been completed by H. C. Stearns, instructor in design at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology of Cambridge, Mass., and bids for casting have been asked. The tablet will be sent here early in the summer.

It was at the request of Dr. Ely that the design was made at the school where Lieut. Ely formerly was a student. The tablet is the second to be erected for him. The first was erected shortly after the third Liberty loan drive, started by his $5,000 life insurance. The memorial subscription authorized by himself brought upward of $1,000,000 from Chicagoans' pockets that day.

STRAWBERRY TO BECOME A WINE BY U. S. PERMIT

Washington, D. C., March 23.—A permit to manufacture wine out of strawberries for nonbeverage purposes was issued tonight to the Strawberry Growers' Association of Louisiana by the bureau of internal revenue. Provision is made that no sugar shall be added to increase the alcoholic content.

While no explanation of the permit was made, bureau officials said the strawberry growers had appealed for permission to set up a winery to care for their surplus crop, estimated at $5,000,000.

Such procedure, officials intimated, would include producers of other juicy berries—blackberries, blueberries, and the different kinds of raspberries—and might cover vegetables such as beets and possibly dandelions and elderberries.

Soldier Shoots Himself to Death in Armory

Private Meane Ledoux, 26 years old, of a provisional company, 54th infantry, stationed at the Second Regiment armory, 2653 West Madison street, killed himself yesterday with a rifle. The soldier had been brooding over illness.

His body was found at 6:30 a. m. Officers recalled hearing an explosion about 4 a. m. They thought it to be an automobile tire.

3 ARIZONA BANKS CLOSE; 1 DEMANDS 60 DAYS' NOTICE

Phoenix, Ariz., March 23.—Three Arizona banks today voluntarily closed their doors, and a fourth began demanding sixty days' notice of intention to withdraw savings deposits, except in emergency cases.

The three banks which suspended business today were the Citizens' State bank of Phoenix, the Central bank of Wickenburg, and the Exchange bank of Peoria, Ariz. Each was capitalized at $25,000.

The Commercial National bank of Phoenix is the one requiring sixty days' notice from depositors.

Freight Traffic Slump Still On, Figures Show

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—The American Railway association's transportation figures on conditions in the middle of March, made public today, showed the slump in freight traffic was continuing. Railway officials, however, are confident that the figures will tell a different story in the next few weeks. For the week ending March 15, 424,409 idle freight cars were reported, largest number since last November.

Why do they put rubber on lead pencils?

THERE is not a man in the world who does not make mistakes. There is no group of men in the world which does not make mistakes. But a man of average intelligence profits by the mistakes he has made. He does not repeat them. And a well-organized group of men profits by the mistakes which they all have made. The organization does not repeat them.

There is perhaps no business in the world so prolific of mistakes as the advertising business. And the commonest mistake of all is for a man or a group of men who are new to advertising, and without any record of mistakes by which they can profit, to attempt to advertise without advice.

The best place to get advice is from a group of men of long experience in the advertising business who have not only learned a lot about what not to do in advertising, but also have an accumulated fund of knowledge about what should be done.

George Batten Company has been in advertising for thirty years. Advertising is the business of making a lot of people hold the same opinion on a given subject. It is a delicate business, because favorable Public Opinion is something that cannot be moulded by the unskilful.

In thirty years we have acquired the faculty of scenting danger as well as safety from afar. We have profited by all the judgments which the 300 members of our organization have made.

We do not make many mistakes now, but we still buy erasers.

That's one of the reasons why our business keeps growing.

ONCE a month, or more frequently, we issue a publication called Batten's Wedge. Each issue is devoted to a single editorial on some phase of business. If you are a business executive and would like to receive copies, write us.

BUCK FORCES A SHOWDOWN ON ROAD BUILDING

Demands a Legislative Investigation.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—The crisis in the Illinois road building situation came today in the legislature with the introduction of a joint resolution that demands an immediate showdown on all involved questions.

Senator Buck of Monmouth, introduced the resolution which demands a joint legislative investigation to start immediately. The Buck resolution is held by legislators to be the dominant issue now before the general assembly so far as the down state is concerned. It is scheduled for affirmative action in the senate tomorrow morning and is likely to have an easy trip through the house.

The resolution contemplates the revolutionizing of the entire system of construction and maintenance of roads, even to the extent of changing over the hard surfaced roads as contemplated by the $60,000,000 bond bill, to gravel or other material, depending upon local physical situations.

The scope of the proposal is indicated in the following summary of the resolution:

That a joint committee of three from the senate and three from the house be appointed to investigate and report to the present general assembly upon the following pressing propositions: The establishment of a permanent, uniform, and efficient system of road improvement and maintenance throughout the state: The promotion of a county system of road improvements and maintenance throughout the state by extending dirt road improvement and the use of gravel, or similar material where advisable: The establishment of the so-called Wisconsin patrol system: To investigate and report the sentiment for and advisability of changing the construction to be used in bond issue roads (where practical) from cement or brick to some other construction: To make recommendations as to the best methods of treatment of dirt roads with oil or other material, and the subsequent proper care of such roads, and that the joint committee be directed to report to this session of the general assembly, and an appropriation of $2,500 is to be made to cover the expense of the investigation."

"KING," a veteran circus horse, who has appeared before thousands of children throughout the United States as a star performer in Ringling Brothers' circus, yesterday became the property of the Chicago Junior Farm Home and School. His present home is at Royalton Heights on the St. Joseph river, near St. Joseph, Mich. Chicago Junior is now conducting a campaign to raise $250,000 in order that more boys and girls from broken homes may be taken care of by the organization.

HOLDUP CHASED BY MOB, TRAFFIC COP TRAPS HIM

Pursued by a mob at North State street and Grand avenue, Frank Troson, 26, of 812 South State street, one of three men alleged to have held up Joseph Levin in his tailor shop at 505 North Dearborn street, was captured yesterday by Traffic Policeman Edward A. Brokow.

Levin said Troson and his companions entered his store, and Troson put on a new suit and an overcoat, then ordered Levin to wrap up the old clothes. While Levin did so one of the trio pulled a revolver and ordered Levin to hold up his hands.

The robbers bound him with towels and took $4 and a $3 check from his pockets, and also a ring and a watch, Levin said. They then rifled the cash register, he charged, but in their hurry missed $500.

FORDNEY TARIFF BILL RAPPED IN SOUTH AMERICA

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

BUENOS AIRES, March 23.—In view of the apparent determination of the American congress to pass the Fordney emergency tariff bill, La Nacion advocates abrogation of all Argentina's commercial treaties.

It declares that the Fordney law means that Argentina will be forced to return to its prewar relations wherein the United States held an insignificant share of Argentina's foreign trade.

Concluding La Nacion says, "The economic despotism of the United States is an example of the wisdom which we should follow."

ATTERBURY CITES BIBLE TO UPHOLD STAND OF ROADS

The railroad labor board hearings on the controversy resulting from the effort of railway executives to have national working agreements abrogated, will enter the final stage today when B. M. Jewell, president of the railway employes' department of the American Federation, takes the witness stand to present labor's side of the question.

The examination of W. W. Atterbury, vice president of the Pennsylvania lines, by Frank P. Walsh, labor union attorney, was completed yesterday noon.

Attorney Walsh again persisted in his effort to make Mr. Atterbury admit that at least some rules affecting relations between employer and employés could be applied nationally with benefit to both. He read from certain principles promulgated by the war labor board in 1918. The railway executive promptly cited a distinction between "rules" and "principles."

"The Ten Commandments are principles, and one of them says, 'Thou shalt not steal.' It's just stealing for a man to take an hour's pay and not do an hour's work for it. A principal may be sound, but you can't expect a rule to work in Florida, Mackinac, and on the Pacific coast. No rule laid down by a board is of national application, admissible of national application verbatim."

Mr. Walsh questioned the witness as to the accuracy of figures placing the loss of railroads, due to national agreements, at $300,000,000.

"I have really grossly understated the figures," Mr. Atterbury said.

The Burlington, officials of the road indicated last night, probably will file an appeal with the railroad labor board today asking permission to reduce wages of its maintenance of way employés. A conference between officials and representatives of these unskilled workers resulted in the union men rejecting a cut in pay, which now ranges from 38½ to 48½ cents an hour. A reduction of 8½ cents is proposed.

The International Harvester company yesterday confirmed reports of a 5 to 20 per cent wage and salary reduction affecting 47,000 employés. Officials also said the economic readjustment problem confronting them probably would necessitate temporarily laying off several thousand employés within the next sixty days.

"We have timed this action to work the minimum of hardship," one of the company's leading officials said. "During the winter we had to economize to meet the lessening demand for our product, but by working men part time we avoided letting them out."

THE SILESIAN PLEBISCITE.

The Silesian plebiscite, according to latest reports, is not likely to bring peace but only another phase of the bitter contest which has been waged for months over the important resources of this region. The vote has been taken and counted by an interallied commission. Yet the result is challenged by both parties and violence is threatened.

Truly in Europe one woe doth tread upon another's heel, so fast they come. The Polish question seems as far from settlement as ever. The questions raised by the plebiscite as to the interpretation of the returns—whether, for example, the latter are to be counted by village and group units or the majority of the whole territory totaled—may be determined by the commission, but the underlying facts will remain the same and the chief of these is that upper Silesia contains a majority of Germans which Polish policy has not conciliated and Polish force unaided cannot coerce.

Thus we have not moved an inch away from the impasse created by the German will to survive and the Franco-Polish determination to hold Germany down.

The situation in its present terms seems to us fatal. If a compromise cannot be found there will be no peace in Europe in our time and the survival of European society will be dubitable if not impossible.

America cannot but contemplate this contest with the gravest concern. If our security is not necessarily involved, it is clear that our return to prosperity and our rate of progress are. Yet we are asked to participate in the solution of Europe's difficulties on terms which we cannot afford and have no intention to accept. We are not asked, in fact, to contribute impartially to a restoration of Europe but to underwrite policies which are shown to be destructive of the structure it is our interest to sustain and improve. We are asked to help our associates in the war to enforce conditions of victory which would be to us a defeat, for they would simply alter balances of force and insure the continued play of ambitions and hatreds which brought about the present catastrophe.

The crux of the whole problem is the determination of France to distribute the resources of Germany so that they cannot be united and directed again against France. That is a natural, perhaps an inevitable, determination. The American people probably would have it in like circumstances and the French are not likely to give it up. The interests of civilization, in fact, demand that there shall be no revival of German militarist imperialism at the expense of France or any other country. So far there can be and is no difference of opinion, and if there remains in Germany any influential force working toward such a revival it will have the unflinching and successful opposition of the powers which combined to defeat it in 1918.

But American opinion in the main is not in agreement with the French methods of protection from this danger nor is it at all satisfied that French chauvinism and imperialism are not stimulated to take advantage of present conditions to carry French policy, if possible, beyond the limits of defense.

France undoubtedly would like to make central Europe so weak that it could never threaten her again. That is natural, but it could be accomplished only at the expense of the fatal deterioration of Europe and even the subversion of white civilization. Europe requires vigor and peace in central Europe and neither is possible under the conditions proposed by the treaties brought forth at Paris. The Germanic peoples cannot be kept in political disunion and economic disruption except by the exercise of a military force the cost of which would ruin us all. The economic disruption, alone, of central Europe would be ruinous.

The plebiscite in Silesia illustrates and emphasizes this. Upper Silesia has voted German because there are many more Germans than Poles in that region and Poland offers no such inducements as could tempt the former to separate themselves from their kin and from the economic possibilities which German organization promises. If France could force separation they would be compelled to preserve an artificial condition by force. The American conception of a healthy Europe does not accept such a situation. We know it means an armed peace while it endures and war certain and disastrous in due time.

Perhaps the European mind is inured to this prospect and holds it unescapable. But we in America cannot have any wish to accept it. There is an alternative we prefer. It is to remain out and reduce as far as we can the effects we realize we must suffer in any case.

America realizes her interests are involved in the European struggle. America is ready to help Europe toward restoration. But America is not willing to give its strength to an attempt to guarantee French immunity at the expense of the economic paralysis of central Europe, the dismemberment of natural political units, and the perpetuation of the moral toxæmia which is now endangering the very existence of European society.

UNDER THE NEW BANK LAW.

The state announces that there has not been a bank failure in Illinois this year. One reason is there are no unregulated banks. Prior to the adoption of the law bringing all institutions using the name bank and offering themselves as banks under state regulation THE TRIBUNE month by month printed the number for the year of private banks which had been wrecked by absconding officials.

These failures invariably hit people least able to afford loss, and the pictures of the long lines of woebegone, defrauded depositors were familiar to readers of newspapers. It took a long, hard fight to get the remedy, but the state has profited from it.

This would have been a particularly bad year to have added to it the complications of irresponsible banking. It is never quite understandable why such bitter contests are needed to get legislation so palpably needed, but eventually the right side wins, and it is encouraging in other fights to contemplate the good which can be done by winning one.

PROTECT THE TENANTS.

Tenants and landlords battling at Springfield over the Kessinger rent commission bill will agree, we believe, upon one point. The point is that a condition of improved housing at lower rentals is one essential to the restoration of general prosperity. They differ upon the method by which this happy consummation is to be attained. They both will admit that increased building will accomplish it.

The questions, then, are of increasing building to bring permanent relief and of legislation for temporary relief. The difficulty lies in obtaining both without the sacrifice of either.

Advocates of the Kessinger commission bill, in some cases admitting doubt of its value, incline to the belief that it will bring temporary relief. Opponents of the measure, likewise doubtful, believe that it will delay permanent relief. Arguments pro and con carry the ring of sincerity in their ackowledgment of the necessity of relief rather than in assurance that the one correct provision has been found.

High rents, particularly in this time of business depression, are a handicap to all business. Money spent for rent cannot be spent for food, clothing, furnishings, education, recreation, or other essentials of American life. It reduces demand for all commodities and helps to slow up production. Any legislation which will tend to lower rents permanently, releasing money for general buying, will be looked upon with favor. Any legislation which will keep rents up, restricting general buying and business, will prove a hardship to the rent payer and to the community alike. The task before the legislature, therefore, is to decide what the bill in question will do. The important consideration is the permanency of the results to be obtained.

To lower rents for a year or two years, if it further restricts building, is dangerous and short-sighted. Normal increase of city population will make the situation worse at the end of such a period.

The danger of the Kessinger commission bill is that it may prevent a permanent correction by discouraging building. If it gives to a commission power to fix "just and reasonable" rents that commission, if badly conducted, can virtually destroy the investment value of every apartment building in the city. By putting building investments into politics it will make the public as shy of them as of politics-ridden traction investments.

If, on the other hand, profiteering landlords continue to act totally without restriction they are likely to pull the prosperity of the tenant and of the community together down around their ears. European landlordism for centuries has been developing a bad reputation and has suffered in consequence. American landlords have been comparatively exemplary. In defense of their own interests, the interests of the tenants, and the interests of the community they must see the light in the present crisis. If they are blind or refuse to see, business men and bankers will do well to make the facts clear to them.

The tenants must be protected. In their prosperity and purchasing power lies the prosperity of the entire country. That is cold economics. No impassioned appeals or prejudice should decide the issue. What is needed is calm and careful consideration.

Of one thing we can be sure. Rents will be low when houses and flats become plentiful. In the meantime no possible reduction in rents will adequately house fifty thousand more families than there are houses and flats obtainable. We are in the midst of a period of hardship. It cannot be dodged. We had better pick our way through it on an easy grade which will lead us over the peak of the difficulty than to choose a level path which eventually will bring us to the foot of an impassable cliff.

EFFICIENCY IN THE POSTAL SERVICE.

The new postmaster general's remarks on the postal service, addressed to the employés of the Chicago postoffice, will encourage men who have had for some years a sorry deal from their employer, Uncle Sam, or rather his late agent. These men have been in many cases underpaid and overworked. Mr. Hays says he is going to "humanize" the postal service and make employés feel their partnership in a great enterprise. It is to be hoped he will make this a leading factor in his policy. There can be no efficiency without consideration for the men who are expected to produce it. They should be given just compensation, decent conditions of work, healthful environment, prompt consideration of their grievances, protection for their old age.

The United States should be a model employer, setting sane but high standards in its treatment of its faithful servants, basing its requirements of efficient service on its own justice. The American people will support such a policy and the service will respond to it promptly.

Mr. Hays has a difficult task before him, but there is good reason to hope he will produce results in good time.

Editorial of the Day

A CHALLENGE TO AMERICANS.

[From the Illinois State Journal.]

Col. William B. Greeley, head of the government's forest service, says the United States must quit using wood or find a way to grow trees on its millions of idle acres. He characterizes the situation as "a challenge to our common sense."

It is indeed a challenge to the common sense, and likewise to the sentiment of Americans. It is a challenge to their ingenuity and to their pride.

The waste which has brought about a shortage of lumber in the United States ought to be checked. And as a people endowed with judgment and with a decent regard for those who are to follow them, Americans should set about making provision for the future.

Col. Greeley and his assistants are doing something; various state governments are bestirring themselves with plans for reforestation; numerous local communities have taken up the matter. It remains for each individual in the country to accept the challenge of which Col. Greeley speaks.

BLAME IT ON THERMOMETER.

Prof. Mark A. May, who runs the psychological department in Syracuse university, thinks the warm winter is responsible for many crimes, because energy which would be used in keeping their perpetrators comfortable in cold weather must find an outlet. We may soon hear of a criminal pleading the modifying influence of the Gulf Stream as a defense on his trial.—New York Herald.

THE WORDSMAN

Hitting the Trail in the Wilderness of Words

BY JOHN P. MILTON.

[Copyright: 1921: By John P. Milton.]

THE DICTIONARY A PUBLIC WORK.

THROUGHOUT the years I read the dictionary for pleasure and profit I never ceased to marvel at the prodigious labor involved in its compilation, printing, and binding. The first "unabridged" dictionary I owned presented a vocabulary of some 114,000 words. It was an edition of 1864, with a supplement that was added in 1879. Think of the manual labor such a work entailed in that day of limited mechanical facilities. Typewriters were scarcely known then; the writing of the copy for the book had to be done by hand. The typesetting, also performed by hand, was a colossal task, and must have taken hundreds of printers' years to complete.

But however great the mechanical task, the unremitting, arduous toil and painstaking diligence inseparable from the compilation of a dictionary of the English language as comprehensive as the first "unabridged," even with the aid of the foundation laid by Noah Webster some fifty years before, compels admiration for a brilliant work achieved under difficulties incident to a period of actual civil war; but consider further the obstacles encountered and surmounted by the pioneer dictionary makers, especially the American philologists Worcester and Webster—Webster, who was so concerned lest his countrymen remain illiterate that he wrote in 1783, when still a young man, a spelling book for self-instruction, which was so successful that he was able to finance his first dictionary, published in 1828, from the proceeds of its sale. Reverence is due to his genius.

And it seems to me that the breadth of vision, faith in the future, and confidence in the public evinced by dictionary publishers in bringing forth a reference work of such magnitude and costliness, a book so useful to every one, yet whose value as an educational and cultural source is not generally and properly appreciated, should be rewarded by a demand which would place a good dictionary in every home.

The dictionary I now possess, the 1920 edition, contains 400,000 words—almost four times as many as the first "unabridged" of 1864. The thousand or more additional pages and some two thousand new illustrations are items which show how our language has been augmented in the last half century. The current edition is convenient to consult, many improvements having been wrought in the compilation of the vocabulary and in the typographical makeup calculated to compress the work into as small space as is compatible with completeness. Altogether it is a more scientific and informative work than the 1864 edition, but I miss many qualities of the old edition, attractive to a past generation. Some of these graces were in the preface and the biography of the author. I note also a diminution of quotations showing usage of words which were an enjoyable feature of the old edition's definitions. But the definitions in the new edition are more complete and scientific, and the treatment of synonyms is so exhaustive and nicely discriminatory that this department represents a new work rather than a revision.

Appropriately, our exploration of the jungle of words will begin with examination of one of the two smallest specimens of words, the word "a," which, excepting only the capital "I," used as a personal pronoun, and the capital "O," a vocative interjection, is the only letter of the alphabet which may be called a word; although grammarians call "a" an "indefinite article" when it stands alone in a sentence, it is technically a word.

"A," the first letter of the English and most of the allied alphabets, in both its capital form and small form, comes from the Latin A, corresponding to the Greek letter Alpha, derived from Aleph, the name of the first letter of the Phœnician and ancient Hebrew alphabets. In English the original sound of "a" was that in arm; the long sound, as in rate, being comparatively modern. Eight definitions are given in my dictionary showing usages of "a" in the English language in many forms and applications—quite a compliment to the importance of our first acquaintance among the alphabet. Every one knows the alphabet, but what do you know of the origin of the letters?

It is noted that the arbitrary mark of shipping underwriters, "A 1," is given with the characters separated; the form most general is that without space between—as, "A1." Also, the term is used colloquially to imply superiority: "My wife's pies are A1." (This is fact as well as illustration.)

Abaddon is a word from the Hebrew, which means literally a place of destruction, the abyss of hell. Practically all languages contain words conveying the idea of the word hell.

Abandon, used often as a noun and a transitive verb, is of French origin, a fact probably not well known because the word is so familiar in English. The synonyms of both the noun, abandon, and the participial adjective, abandoned, should be examined for nice distinctions.

Abase is a transitive verb whose synonyms also should be examined. It is often confused with abash, meaning to disconcert.

"Let not your zeal for the cause abate, your advocacy into apathy subside." The verbs abate and subside in the foregoing, which is quoted merely to indicate it is an illustratory sentence—it is not a quotation from any writer—are used correctly. Although abate and subside are similar in meaning, there is a distinction made in their employment in the synonymy under abate in my dictionary which should be known.

Abderian, an adjective; literally of or pertaining to Abdera, a town in Thrace, of which Democritus, the Laughing Philosopher of ancient Greece, was a native; hence, by analogy, given to laughter, or inclined to foolish or incessant merriment. Democritus was one of the first to enunciate clearly what is known in philosophy as the theory of atomism, which doctrine is explained under atomism.

It may properly be said a king abdicates his crown, an inherent or sovereign right, but whoever relinquishes a conferred trust or office before completion of the term of service is said to have resigned.

Abecedarian, a word seldom seen, is interesting because of its natural formation. It is literally A B C D-arian, arian probably from the Latin suffix arium. It is applicable to a learner of the alphabet—hence, any beginner or tyro—and a teacher in rudimentary schools also might properly be called an abecedarian. Seen for the first time, abecedarian appears to be a word to be employed only by the learned.

From the addenda to my dictionary, containing information on the very latest comers to our language, we learn that A B C, the initial letters of Argentina, Brazil, and Chile, South American states, is a signification used attributively in diplomatic and newspaper circles in referring to these powers, their alliance, and their mutual treaty of peace ratified May 25, 1915, effective for five years, which was recently renewed.

Some of the words we have skipped may be of interest to you, as well as the additional matter concerning the above words which is in the dictionary, so read all if you can find time. Information is everywhere to be discovered in this book.

DISLOCATION OF JOINTS.

WHEN we speak of bones being knocked out of joint we mean that the head of one bone has been definitely displaced from the socket in which it works. When one bone normally sliding over another has slid too far the term generally used is supluxation. The bones that get out of their sockets most frequently are those of the upper leg and upper arm and the lower jawbone.

The sockets from which they escape are the hip joint, the shoulder joint, and the jaw joint. The first two of these are deep round sockets, in which the head of the limb fits snugly. The head of the bone is held by a strong ligament which runs from the center of the head to the center of the socket. Around the socket is a capsule which helps to hold the bones in position. Also acting as a binder are the nets of strong muscles and their ligaments. The pressure of the air is another force which operates to hold the bones where they belong.

As a piece of mechanism the joint is nearly perfect. Nevertheless, force can pull the head out of the socket, stretch or break the ligament of the joint, tear the capsule, displace the muscles and ligament, and land the head of the bone outside the socket lying on the nearby bone and caught under some bony ridge or heavy tendon or muscle.

A skillful surgeon, knowing the location of every structure in the neighborhood, will pry the displaced head from its new location and by twist of the wrist without using much force will land it back in its proper place. The subject feels such instantaneous relief that he will have a tendency to forget that dislocation is necessarily attended by breaking or overstretching of the ligament, tearing of the capsule, and displacement of tendons.

Not infrequently the burtling head or the force which caused it to hurtle injures nerve trunks, and occasionally it tears blood vessels. When a dislocation has been reduced the joint must be nursed until the injury to the joint and its neighbors has been repaired. It sometimes happens that neglected joints are lamed for months or years after the damaging experience of a dislocation.

The lower jaw fits into a shallow socket located just in front of the ears. The socket is a shallow one and the ligaments which hold it in place are not strong. In consequence not much force is required to dislocate this joint. In fact, there are people who can throw their jaws out of joint by a strenuous yawn. A joint which slips out easily generally slips in easily also. Dislocation of the jaw joint is easily reduced and after reduction it is found that there has not been much tearing or overstretching.

The finger joints belong to the hinge rather than the ball and socket type. In these joints the bones glide over each other, being held in position by tendons and ligaments. Every baseball playing small boy knows how easily the fingers are knocked out of joint. He likewise knows how easily the displaced bones are slipped back into place. To get a finger knocked out of joint is regarded as a matter of no great consequence. And yet the hands of some ball players are monuments testifying to the fact that knocking even a finger out of joint is no trifling matter. The thing can be overdone. The frequent trauma causes the heads of the bones to enlarge and the fingers to become permanently knobbed and crooked.

MIGHT USE X-RAY.

Mrs. N. H. M. writes: "My daughter, who will be 3 years old next July, swallowed a common pin this afternoon. There seemed to be no pain or feeling except for the instant it passed through her throat. In five minutes she had forgotten all about it. I gave no physic, thinking that the pin would become coated with a natural substance and pass through more safely. How soon may we expect the pin to pass through? What would be the probable symptoms if it should lodge in the stomach or intestines?"

REPLY.

The way sharp pointed objects get through the intestines sometimes is almost unexplainable. You did right in not giving a purgative. Examine each stool carefully for three days. If the pin has not passed at the end of that time it has probably caught somewhere. In that event have it located by X-rays, even though no symptoms are present. If symptoms develop have an X-ray without delay and act quickly. The symptoms depend on the location of the pin. There may be nausea, vomiting, or symptoms of peritonitis.

YOU OUGHT TO BE LEAN.

S. A. J. writes: "I am 17 years old, 6 feet tall and weight only 130 pounds. In other words I am of the 'lank and lean' type.

"1. Could you suggest some means by which I might take on weight and broaden a bit?

"2. Is plenty of exercise advisable?

"I do not believe I am undernourished, as I have three square meals a day and eat heartily."

REPLY.

Men of the nationality implied by your name are apt to be of the lean and lank type during adolescence. Exercise regularly and systematically. Eat plenty of cereal with milk and sugar. Get plenty of sleep.

PAVING CAMPBELL AVENUE.

Chicago, March 20.—[Friend of the People.]—I received notice and assessment for the paving of Campbell avenue, from Granville to Devon, some time ago. Then I received another. Can you tell me if the previous assessment has been thrown out? Will a new estimate increase my assessment? Will the paving be completed this year? E. W. I.

The proceeding under docket 43942 for paving a system of streets, Campbell avenue, between Devon and Granville avenues, etc., was abandoned last December because it was found that the estimate of cost was too low. A new estimate of cost was ordered and public hearing held on the proposition Feb. 18, 1921. The ordinance for the improvement was sent to the council Feb. 25, 1921, and we hope to have the improvement made this year, but it is too early to make any definite statement as to when the work will be done. As soon as the assessment roll is filed in court notices will be sent to the property owners, and then if property owners do not delay the proceeding by filing objections in court the assessment will be confirmed without delay and we will be ready to advertise for bids on the work.

THE TRUTH ABOUT NEW YORK BUILDING.

Chicago, March 23.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Recent news items and editorials in Chicago newspapers in support of the Kessinger rent commission bill have used as one of their chief arguments the statement that building in New York City has increased since the passage of similar legislation. These news items and editorials fail to make an important point in differentiating between housing and other construcion.

The Kessinger bill, as the New York rent bill, is designed to relieve home tenants from high rents. For that reason it, as the New York bill, is directed to housing rentals only.

It is true that under the New York bill building construction increased in 1920 over 1919 despite the rent bill. But housing construction, the only thing in which the ordinary rent payer is interested, decreased. In 1919 contracts were awarded in New York for 988 apartments, with a cubic foot capacity of 15,945,100, at a total cost of $51,864,500. In 1920, under the rent bill apartment construction fell off to 402 buildings, with 5,784,400 cubic foot capacity, at a cost of $31,452,900. The only gain in building was in offices, lofts, and garages, not under the rent bill.

The public should know the truth before it supports the Kessinger bill. If New York's experience means anything, it means that such a bill here will reduce building and handicap the city's development instead of relieving tenants and improving conditions, as promised by its advocates. BUILDER.

TURN NEAF AND ZIMMER OVER TO UNITED STATES.

Chicago, March 23.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I note from your columns this morning that the United States is about to appeal to Berlin for clemency on behalf of Neaf and Zimmer, two American army sergeants, who have been tried and found guilty in an enemy country for rendering an honorable and patriotic service to their own country.

It seems to me that the arrest and conviction of these two gentlemen is the height of impudence, more particularly when we reflect upon the circumstances surrounding the case.

May I suggest that you offer a petition in your columns recommending to our government that a vigorous demand for the immediate release of these two American soldiers be made, so that it may be signed by the readers of THE TRIBUNE and referred to our representatives at Washington? I feel quite sure that every red corpuscled citizen of the United States feels quite as I do about this matter and would welcome an opportunity of signing such a petition. America's demands in this instance should be unmistakable.

MORE HIGH NOTES.

Chicago, March 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Regarding Master Robert Murray's high note I wish to state that the same note was reached with ease by Glen Roy Grant, 13 years old, in 1907, and a member of the Trinity choir at Columbus, O., at that time. The fact was recorded at length in the Columbus Evening Dispatch of that date and in the newspapers all over the United States at a later date.

Tetrazzini used to sing E flat in altissimo levelly and with a pure, if somewhat heavy, tone. Ellen Beach Yaw could take F sharp in altissimo with as little effort as the same note on the treble clef. She could run up the scale from the altissimo F sharp to the C higher than the so-called high C, the highest note ever reached by any soprano.

Glen Grant had a beautiful boy soprano voice, but could not sing at all after his voice changed. CHARLES C. GRANT.

WOMEN AND THE HAMON VERDICT.

Chicago, March 22.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In pursuance of your editorial of March 21, entitled "The Hamon Verdict and the Wronged Woman," I should like to offer a further analysis which, in my thought, sets forth the real cause for the Hamon verdict. So long as the attitude of men towards women is based entirely upon sex, and so long as women accept this attitude, we must expect juries of men to free the feminine murderer in cases similar to the Hamon case.

This same attitude of thought, operating subconsciously in juries trying this type of case, operates consciously at the polls or in the legislature when these same men will vote a woman into starvation and slow death by refusing equal pay for equal work. In both cases it is a sex question which lies at the root of the matter—in the one case subjection through protection, in the other subjection through economic bondage.

The probabilities are that, if the Hamon case had been tried before a jury composed entirely or in part by women who can see in their own minds equal standards of citizenship by which to judge both men and women, the verdict would have been different. G. M. P.

"ALL WRONG."

Wabash, Ind., March 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Your editorial in today's paper on "Juries and the Wronged Woman" is all wrong. Clara Smith Hamon proved that she killed Jake L. Hamon in protecting her own life. He was crazed with "booze" and jealousy, and, after choking her and cursing her, attacked her with a chair. This evidence was undisputed and the jury believed it. She killed this brute of a man in self-defense and the law justifies her.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR THE BONUS.

Chicago, March 21.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—As an ex-service man, who gave the best part of two years to our country for $1 a day, and who is doubtful of ever seeing any bonus legislation passed, I offer the following substitute:

"That all ex-service men who have incomes of $5,000 per year or less be exempt from paying income tax."

All the boys who were in the army a year or more certainly made a financial sacrifice, if nothing more, and this should be rebated in some form or other, to put us on an equal basis with those who stayed at home. As it stands now it appears that ex-service men are being taxed double for the war.

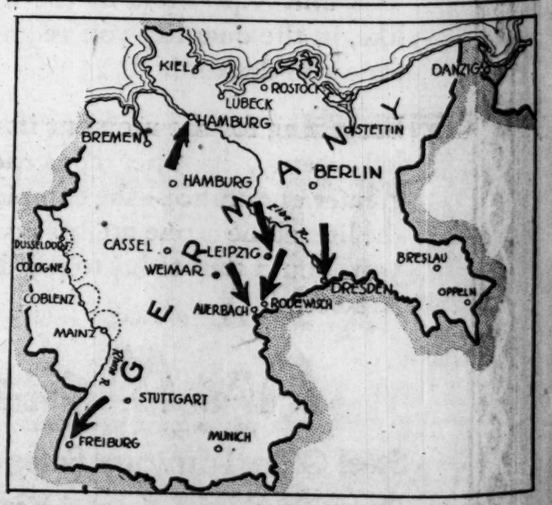

LEWIS M. WASHBURN.

THE NEGRO IN THE SOUTH.

Chattahoochee, Fla., March 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In your issue of THE TRIBUNE March 13 F. L. Barnett has something to say about the Negro and the treatment accorded him in the south. When he says "the Negro does not find lynching in the north" he is mistaken; the Negro is lynched in the north for the same crime, and as quickly. The only reason there are not more lynchings in the north is that there are fewer Negroes there. If there has been any great exodus of Negroes to the north there is still plenty of them left, and those who have gone have not been missed. The honest Negro knows that the south is and ever has been his friend. Were it not for the laxity in law enforcement we would need no lynchings, but when criminals are freed over mere technicalities no such risk can be taken with the cases that are dealt with. The industrious Negro is accorded treatment in business just as the white man. They have their own schools, churches, and lodges.

It may be true that there are petty persecutions of Negroes in some sections by the lower class of whites, and it may also be true that these same white people are incited to these acts by some one not of the better class, who cares absolutely nothing about the Negro other than to stir up strife. The colored people of the south are probably the happiest people in America today. ORA BARNETT, R. N.

GERMAN COMMUNISTS REBEL

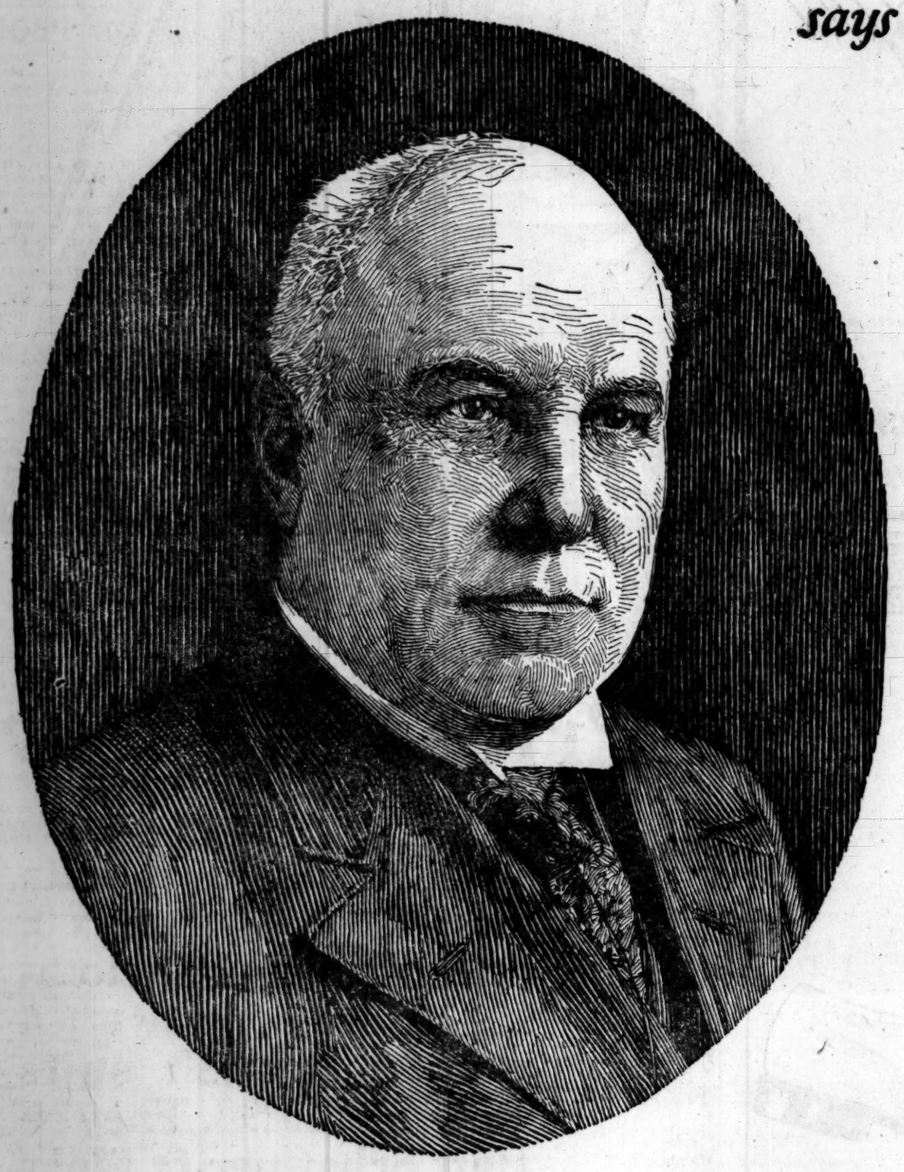

German communists yesterday seized the Hamburg municipal buildings and two great shipyards and outbursts also were reported in Leipsic, Dresden, and other important cities, where administrative buildings were dynamited and red flags hoisted.

The courthouses in Leipsic and Auerbach were destroyed by bombs and great property loss was caused in Rodewisch and Freiburg.

The arrows on the accompanying map indicate the places where the most serious troubles occurred.

Hon. Franklin K. Lane

says of The Red Book Magazine:

In the first two groups of the most powerful influences in the land I should place your magazine, for you decide what Fiction the people shall have.

Through Fiction this generation is given its philosophy, economics, moral standards and inspiration by subtly instilling the thought which gives standpoint to life. Fiction is our environment; as real as the social group in which we move, and as determining in its effect. And so whatever is noble or base, just, generous or little, we live with and react toward or against, as we see these pictures which the fictionist draws upon the walls of the mind. This is power: such power as the statesman does not possess; no one, indeed, unless it be the mother.

The teacher and the poet, the preacher and the prophet of this day is the writer of Fiction. For this is no more an age of steel and machinery, or electricity and chemistry, than it is the age of Fiction.

Franklin K. Lane

The gratifying expression of Mr. Lane—whose distinguished service to America in the Cabinet during and after the war as Secretary of the Interior will never be forgotten—is concretely based upon the April issue, the contents of which comprise:

Beauty, by RUPERT HUGHES, a remarkable serial novel of today by a master of Fiction.

Conflict, by CLARENCE BUDINGTON KELLAND, a singularly revealing novel of Youth's everlasting conflict with Age.

Fair to Middling, by NALBRO BARTLEY, an American novel in which are vividly contrasted four types of modern life.

The Garage of Enchantment, by SAMUEL MERWIN, a heart-probing story of a small-town girl's adventurous revolt.

The Claws of the Tong, by JACK BOYLE, a vivid and informing story of the Dragon Empire in America.

Every Man Has His Price, by MRS. WILSON WOODROW, another story of that suave scoundrel Achison.

Poor Dear Papa, by MEREDITH NICHOLSON, a story of a father's original plan for his family's salvation.

Satan and the Spirit, by E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM, the story of another adventure by the delightful Mr. Cray of the U. S. A.

Crossing Up Augustus, by PETER CLARK MACFARLANE, a story of romantic adventure and business in the mining country.

April Fool Candy, by HENRY C. ROWLAND, the story of "a certain sort of girl" and all she missed in life.

Kerrigan's Kid, by GERALD BEAUMONT, a story of the human side of the baseball diamond by a new expert on sports.

SECURITIES TAX ONE OF TOUGHEST REVENUE KNOTS

Exemptions Attended by Various Ills.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

ARTICLE NO. 18.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special.]—Exemption of certain classes of securities from taxation has brought about a problem of increasing perplexity to congress.

The continued extension of tax exemption has emphasized the point that if all the people are taxed alike their burden will be only half as great as if half the people paid all the taxes.

It is estimated that approximately $15,000,000,000 of securities in the United States are now exempt from federal taxation. This does not include bonds of the federal government which are partially or wholly tax exempt, but is made up, for the most part, of municipal, county, state, and other classes of securities which cannot be taxed by the federal government.

May Amend Constitution.

Eventually, it is the belief of many members of congress, it will be necessary to amend the federal constitution and extend the powers of the government so that in the future issues of municipal, county, and state securities can be taxed. Unless this is done it is apparent that there will be a constant increase in these securities, and the tendency of men of large wealth will be to invest in these securities, rather than in railroad and industrial bonds.

It is estimated that the federal government is losing $160,000,000 a year possible revenue because of the inability to tax the income from certain classes of securities. This is in addition to a further loss of considerable proportions due to the tendency of the present high surtax rates on large incomes to drive investments into tax exempt securities.

In revising tax laws nothing can be done toward reaching municipal securities in the immediate future. Some impetus may be given, however, to a movement for a constitutional amendment, a resolution for which was introduced in the house a few weeks ago by Representative McFadden of Pennsylvania.

Can't Be Made Retroactive.

This proposes a constitutional amendment providing that congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes from whatever source derived, "which shall include incomes derived from securities created by the states and their subsidiary governments issued after the ratification of this article, and salaries of all public officials, federal as well as state, elected or appointed to office after the ratification of this article."

Such an amendment to the constitution could not be made retroactive.

The tax exemption question has assumed serious proportions only since the piling up of war burdens made it necessary to obtain the bulk of the funds needed from income and profits taxes.

At present various degrees of tax exemption apply to the liberty bonds and victory notes of the federal government. Persons with small holdings are not taxed upon the amount received as interest from their bonds, but a tax does apply to holders of large amounts.

The treasury department has been anxious to put through legislation consolidating and simplifying the exemptions applying to various issues of liberty bonds. There are two conflicting movements in this connection. One is to improve the market value of all the government bonds by extending tax exemption, and the other is to grant less exemption from taxation.

Another result is that heavy investors decline to purchase taxable securities as freely as formerly. Railroads, utility, and industrial corporations are, therefore, compelled to borrow from small investors and pay higher rates.

H. P. Crane Is Indicted on Charges by Girls

Herbert P. Crane Jr., son of the Chicago and St. Charles millionaire, was indicted yesterday on three counts.

The true bills were voted after Louise Sturm of 811 Weed street, 13 years old, and Marie Fischer of 1613 Dayton street, also 13, had told the grand jury that Crane had annoyed them in Lincoln park.

"Atmosphere"

When words cannot be found to convey certain intangible or subtle ideas, the national advertiser turns to the artist.

The artist may be necessary for involved technical illustration, but his highest value is in creating "the proper atmosphere."

In the absence of a Charles Dickens, words may be lacking to convey the eager relish that Cushman Parker brings to you through the faces of delighted children.

The grace and elegance of a certain silverware may not be easily expounded, but Franklin Booth creates for it an atmosphere that is compelling.

There is a world of opportunity as yet unrealized in the art of advertising.

When you start—start right. The cost of the very best artist is so infinitely small, divided among so many readers as to be wholly negligible; while the effectiveness and profit in each case, multiplied by millions of readers, is enormous.

PROTEST PLAN TO ASSESS DUTY ON U. S. VALUATIONS

Marshall Field & Co. Say Policy Is Dangerous.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., March 23.—[Special]—The plan agreed upon by Republican congressional leaders, with the approval of President Harding, to assess duties on the American rather than the foreign value of imports, "will be found to be unworkable and the policy dangerous in the extreme," according to a protest received by members of the house ways and means committee today from Marshall Field & Co. of Chicago.

Could Not Foretell Costs.

"Customs duties must be assessed equally in all parts of the United States, and, as prices in local markets vary widely, it would be impossible to establish therefrom a uniform value upon which to assess duty," said Mr. Simpson on behalf of the company.

"If, as has been suggested, the value at some particular port of entry be taken as the basis, all other markets in the United States would be entirely subservient to the conditions of that particular market and the influence which its merchants and manufacturers would have upon values.

"Under the proposed plan the merchant would be unable to determine his costs in advance of the arrival of merchandise and would be unable to fix his prices for advance sale and imports would practically cease.

Believe Plan Unworkable.

"Values ascertained by arbitrary comparisons or the biased judgment of domestic producers of corresponding merchandise will inevitably be contested and endless litigation ensue. On articles noncompetitive and noncomparable with these in the United States correct values can only be ascertained at the point of origin.

"The increases in the foreign cost, in later years, more than offset the depreciated exchanges, and we find comparative United States equivalents much higher than the prices of 1914.

"We believe that the plan of assessing duties upon the American value will be found to be unworkable and the policy dangerous in the extreme."

Subcommittees of the house ways and means committee continued work today upon the drafting of the permanent tariff bill.

'BIG POLITICIAN' NAMED AS ALLY OF WEIL'S GANG

Frederick K. Buckminster, former policeman and confidence man de luxe, was brought to Chicago yesterday from Palm Beach, Fla., where he was arrested Monday after a three years' search. It is rumored he made a complete confession to State's Attorney Crowe yesterday, naming a prominent politician.

Buckminster was a member of the gang headed by Joe Weil, known as the "Yellow Kid." Buckminster was closeted all yesterday afternoon with the state's attorney. It had been planned to take him immediately to Joliet, where he has three years to serve, but this was postponed. It is hinted he will be taken before the grand jury.

Refers to "The Boss."

Talking to newspaper men, Buckminster referred several times to a big politician whom he called "the boss." He said this man's office was used in the swindle of Charles Worden, president of the Fort Wayne, Ind., First National bank. Between $35,000 and $100,000 was handled in that deal. Buckminster said at least five other men should be in the penitentiary with Weil.

Tanned by the Florida sun and hardened by exercise and constant life in outdoors, Buckminster hardly looked the 60 years he confessed.

"I left here a bum," he said. "I only had $300 on me, and I had to have a 'roll.'"

Had His Private Yacht.

He told of making a fortune catching fish in Florida.

"My yacht was as well fitted as any the millionaires had," he said. "I've got four boats in my fishing fleet, and most of the money I have made was derived from that business."

Chief Investigator Ben Newmark, whose work resulted in the arrest of Buckminster, said that reports indicated the fugitive was well liked and had made many friends.

Buckminster was asked how he happened to get mixed up with Weil's gang.

"Love of money," he said. "I thought I could get away with it."

Tells of Experiences.

Asked to make some observations on his experiences, he complied as follows:

"The easiest man to swindle in the world is the millionaire who inherited his money. He's a natural born sucker. A man who could not bunko a millionaire in a con game ought to be kicked.

"Persons with money and no brains who populate the summer resorts and winter resorts are the easiest to fleece. They'll fall for anything."

Ten U. S. Marshals to Guard Arkansas Railway

Fort Smith, Ark., March 23.—District Judge Frank A. Youmans here today ordered ten special United States deputy marshals to proceed immediately to Harrison, Ark., to give protection to property of the Missouri and North Arkansas railroad.

U. S. BOARD TOLD OF FARMERS' MARKET PUZZLE

Agricultural economists gave the extension workers of the United States department of agriculture a few new angles of the farmers' marketing problems at the closing session of their annual convention in the Hotel Sherman yesterday.

Hale Tenant, marketing expert of Michigan Agricultural college, declared standardization of farm products is essential to work out a satisfactory marketing system.

Dr. H. C. Taylor, chief of the office of farm management and farm economics at Washington, D. C., said the marketing problem is acute now because of the fall in the prices of farm products which resulted in a big loss on last year's crops.

A good percentage of the 150 or more delegates at the convention yesterday were women, leaders of home demonstration work, who were here to work the problems of the farm women and the farm home.

LEGISLATURE HAS EXTRA DRY BILL FOR ILLINOISANS

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., March 23.—"No beer in Illinois" is the edict of the Anti-Saloon league of the state.

The measure, intended by the drys to recast, amplify, and strengthen the present state search and seizure law, was introduced in senate and house this morning by Senator Wood and Representative Tice.

As stated by Scott McBride, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league, "the purpose of this act is to make the state statutes conform more nearly with the Volstead act and to strengthen whatever weak points are in our former law enforcement legislation, so that the prosecuting that now comes under the national law may be made under the state law, making it possible to have the fines assessed go into the school fund of Illinois instead of into the national treasury, as at the present time."

Half Per Cent Is Limit.

The Wood-Tice bill is christened "The Illinois Prohibition Act." It defines intoxicating liquors as including alcohol, brandy, whisky, rum, gin, beer, ale, porter and wine, and any vinous malt, or fermented liquor containing one-half of 1 per cent or more of alcohol by volume. The bill prohibits:

The manufacture and sale of all intoxicating liquors, except as provided in the act.

The sale of medical preparations containing alcohol, except such as are unfit for beverage purposes.

Permit Would Be Required.

It requires a permit from the attorney general to sell any medical preparation with more than one-half of 1 per cent alcohol by volume; limits the requirements that can be prescribed by a physician to whisky brandy, and alcohol, and limits the quantity as does the Volstead act, which is the spot where beer is hit.

The Dunlap-Castle bill for establishment of the state police went through second reading this morning with only a friendly amendment offered by Senator Dunlap. No fight was made upon it. The bill will not come along for final action in the senate until next week.

DEAD OR ALIVE?

Cattleman Who Has Disappeared and Wife Who Has Started Search for Him.

C. W. WALKER. MRS. C. W. WALKER.

DETECTIVES yesterday began a search for C. W. Walker, a cattleman of Stronghurst, Ill., who disappeared after coming to Chicago with a load of cattle on March 15. He told the cattle to John Patterson & Sons, receiving $200, and told the commission men he was going home.

Mrs. Walker waited several days, then made inquiries.

"I fear he has fallen a victim to thieves," she told the police yesterday.

Mr. Walker was 45 years old, and a leader in agricultural affairs in the vicinity of Stronghurst.

BILLS WOULD ADD $40,000,000 YEAR TO CITY'S TAXES

State Measures Don't Cover All Raises.

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

An effort to increase taxes in Chicago more than $40,000,000 a year is being made in the state legislature by local tax expending bodies alone. In addition, state taxes are scheduled to go up because of proposed increase in the distributive school fund from $6,000,000 to $20,000,000, and an appropriation of $10,000,000 for the state university. Chicago will contribute its share of these boosts, and these must be added to the estimated $40,000,000.

That the layman may get a measure by which to view this proposed $40,000,000 boost, it may be recited that the total taxes extended on Chicago in 1915 were $60,934,016; and the total extended last year was $86,313,739. These figures represent the total taxes extended for all purposes, permanent improvements as well as current expenses.

$35,000,000 for Current Expenses.

In the neighborhood of seven-eighths of the $40,000,000 requested will be available for current expenses, and will be levied, collected and spent annually—if the legislature grants the authorization desired by the local tax expending bodies.

The public has been inclined for years to approve of tax increases for permanent improvements, but to grumble about raises for current expenses. How the proposals will be viewed under present conditions remains to be seen.

This figure of $40,000,000 makes no allowance whatever for the taxes which may be levied if Mayor Thompson's traction scheme is approved by the legislature and by the voters. Nor does the $40,000,000 include such bills as that permitting the levying of a tax of 7 cents per $100 valuation yearly to aid in maternity cases.

That means a tax collection of more than $1,000,000 a year, but this bill provides that if it is passed by the legislature it must be submitted to the voters on a referendum.

City Would Increase Taxes.

Of the dozen tax increases asked of the legislature the city is one. As predicted in THE TRIBUNE before the last election, the city is asking for a tax rate to pay the anticipated deficit in expense this year which will result from the present rate of spending. This expected deficit is in the neighborhood of $11,000,000. The increase in tax rate asked by the city calls for a total of $11,860,057 in taxes extended on the present property valuation for taxation purposes.

The city obtained an increase of more than $10,000,000 in taxes from the last legislature because of the loss of an estimated $7,000,000 in liquor license fees. That increase failed to meet expenses, with the result the voters approved of a bond issue of $8,000,000 to pay the city's floating indebtedness at the aldermanic election Feb. 22.

It seems probable not all the bills asking for tax increases have been presented to the legislature. The west and Lincoln park systems and the sanitary district have not made applications for more taxes, so far as has been discovered.

License Fees Go Up.

In addition to the tax requests of the city from the general assembly its committee on revenue is increasing license fees to boost the city's income. It has been predicted this will eventually add $1,000,000 a year more to the city's revenue.

Power Transmission Suited to Power Needs

IT is absurd to suppose that any manufacturer would allow the faucets of his oil tanks to remain constantly open simply because his employees must draw oil at various times during the day. Yet, many industrial plants are daily permitting a greater waste through old-fashioned power transmission methods. Electricity eliminates much of this wastage by conveying power directly to each machine—power utilized only in actual production.

When you electrify, consult the staff of your local central station, or an accredited electrical engineer or contractor. The technical skill and practical experience of these men are your best insurance in obtaining an economical and satisfactory result.

Materials should be chosen only from products of proven merit. Habirshaw insulated wire and cable, for example, has demonstrated its worthiness through more than thirty years, during which time it has been the accepted standard of the electrical industry. Choose your other installation materials with Habirshaw as a basis of comparison, and you will have provided the first essential to satisfactory electrification.

Through the Western Electric Company, distributors of highest-quality electrical merchandise, Habirshaw insulated wire and cable is immediately available in every active market of America. This fact coupled with volume production—millions of feet monthly—brings Habirshaw to the consumer at the lowest possible figure.

Ask any central station, electrical engineer or contractor for "Industrial Electricity," Habirshaw's interesting booklets on the application of electricity to production.

1921 Rewards Fighting Automobile Salesmen

NOTWITHSTANDING adverse conditions in the automobile industry, the Chicago dealer for the Franklin car is breaking the highest records of the past. Frank H. Sanders, the Chicago distributor, furnishes the following statement showing sales of new Franklin cars delivered and paid for during the months indicated.

Dec.	$105,075.49	$125,184.29	$ 20,108.80
Jan.	43,819.85	76,899.40	33,079.55
Feb.	114,751.41	225,241.54	110,490.13

The foundation of this achievement was laid last year. When others were canceling advertising schedules the Franklin increased its copy. Franklin was the largest automobile advertiser in The Tribune last year—using 53,969 lines. Franklin salesmen were keyed up to a high pitch. Longer hours, harder work, more ringing of doorbells, unfailing cheerfulness and enthusiasm were insisted on. Gloomy salesmen were fired. More real-salesmen were hired. Not only is the dealer beating his big records of a year ago, but his fighting salesmen are all making more money than ever before. They know business is good because they have made it so.

STUDEBAKER fights harder than last year and gets $350,000 more business since January 1st

LAST October when many leaders on "Auto Row" were resigning themselves to "business conditions" and a "lean year"—the Studebaker organization began to fight.

The first gun was an advertising campaign—chiefly in The Tribune. This is still in progress and each week Studebaker is one of the largest advertisers in the paper.

Our increase in volume in January, 1921, over January, 1920, was $139,368.75.

Our increase in volume in February, 1921, over February, 1920, was $140,081.83.

For the first fifteen days in March, 1921, we have increased our sales $69,743.28 as against the first fifteen days of March, 1920.

Mr. Levy stated that his sales floor is well filled with customers every day and that it is easy to trace them to the advertising. He has inaugurated an intensive supervision of the attention given by every salesman to every prospect, so that none of the fruits of the advertising may be lost.

FIGHTING SALESMEN OF 1921 is the title of a booklet containing ten prize-winning letters demonstrating the truth of the slogdn below. Each contains a true story of success in spite of present day handicaps. If you want a copy, send a stamped return envelope (size No. 10) to the Business Survey of The Chicago Tribune.

THESE FACTS are presented by The Tribune for the encouragement of business men. The recent 1921 Fighters' Contest showed what individual salesmen are achieving in the face of unfavorable conditions. The above facts illustrate the possibilities of organized sales and advertising effort today.

JACK AGREES TO PERCENTAGE FOR GEORGES BATTLE

BY HARRY NEWMAN.

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Everything was settled today for the holding of the Jack Dempsey-Georges Carpentier fight, except the mere detail of finding a battle ground for the quarrel. The two big athletes will struggle along on a percentage basis and the fight will be held July 2, as originally agreed. But the site selected continue to be just as much of a mystery as ever.

Jack Kearns, manager for Dempsey, met Rickard today and signed the amendment to the original contract, which will give Dempsey 36 per cent and Carpentier 24 per cent.

Carpentier Accepts Terms.

Carpentier accepted the amendment by cable, through his manager, Mons. Descamps. A cablegram from the latter to Rickard was received early today, reading as follows:

"Tex Rickard: Registered letter dated March 1 received, accept all its stipulations. Giving Morgan instructions renew efforts transfer my deposit to your side. Writing. Descamps."

After signing the amendment Kearns said both he and Dempsey would do everything possible to help Rickard stage the contest and that they will agree to any site or change in the articles that the promoter may ask.

Still Guessing at Site.

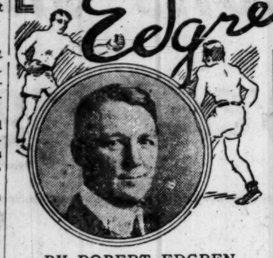

Speculation is still rife as to where the fight will be held. The wise ones were giving Jersey City an awful play today in the guessing contest. They figure it out that the Skeeter state is right forninst New York's back door and would prove a more desirable selection than hopping off to Canada, or jumping to Michigan. At any rate, Jersey City was out in front all day.

Kearns said he did not know where the site was, but was sure Rickard would name the spot in a few days and then he would send for Dempsey and have the champion start light training. The Montreal proposition is still under consideration, and it is believed that if Rickard finds it impossible to stage the contest in the United States, he will shift the whole works to the Canadian city.

GASOLINE ALLEY—SKEEZIX IS WORTH HIS WEIGHT IN GOLD

SPORTS through Edgren's EYES

BY ROBERT EDGREN.

GOLDIE RAPP was playing third base on the training ball ground at San Antonio a few days ago, and I was sitting in the grand stand with John McGraw, the Giants' manager, looking on.

McGraw may be thickset and stolid in appearance and somewhat silent by habit, but he has an active eye that seems to shoot glances in all directions at once and take in every detail of everything within range.

Kelly was on first base, Gaston behind the bat, and a San Antonio player knocking out grounders and bunts for fielding practice. Every few seconds Kelly or Bancroft or Slim Sallee whipped a ball across to Rapp.

With careless ease Goldie picked the hurtling sphere out of the air, whirled around, and shot it like a bullet back to Kelly. It seemed as if he didn't even glance at the ball. He looked sleepy, lazy, but his action was lightning fast. I noticed that McGraw never missed a move that Rapp made.

"That boy looks very good to me," he said. "You want to look Joe Rapp over. He's from St. Paul. They call him 'Goldie' because he has a gold tooth. See the way he whirls and shoots that ball as straight as a bullet without wasting a fraction of a second. Looks pretty smooth and easy, doesn't he?"

"Best looking infielder I saw last summer," put in Dick Kinsella, the scout, who was sitting on the other side.

"Kelly's a likely lad, too," said McGraw. "Big Bill Lang's nephew. Tied with Hornsby of St. Louis last year in hits and runs. Young, out there in right field, hit 352 last year, second in the league, great little fielder. Fast boy."

McGraw has developed a choppy style of conversation. He says a lot to his ball players in a few words.

"Gaston—Milwaukee—out there—finished catcher—quite a man," went on John. "Look at Rapp. See him get that one?"

"There's Frisch and Bancroft. There's an infield that can handle them. Never saw two fellows who could get around better than they do."

Mac Is Hopeful.

By this time it was evident that John McGraw thinks pretty well of his ball team.

A high throw nearly went over Rapp's head. He leaped up after it, speared the ball with his gloved hand, whirled around as he came down, and in the same motion snapped the ball across to Kelly.

"Regular ball hawk," murmured McGraw.

"Kelly's arm swept forward a few inches with a slow, easy swing, and the ball went back to Rapp like a bullet, leaving Kelly's hand with amazing speed.

"Funny that he can put such speed into a throw without any apparent effort," I suggested.

"Wrist and forearm," said John. "Same thing that drives a golf ball 300 yards."

"Did you see Goldie line that one?" asked McGraw.

"Take a look at Young," cut in Kinsella. "He looks awful good to me. Hits like h——."

By this time the practice was about over and the players were dribbling back to the clubhouse for a shower and a rubdown.

McGraw Is Optimistic.

"I think we'll do pretty well this year," said McGraw as we started back to the hotel. "We have eight or nine good pitchers—most of them veterans—Douglas, Sallee, Neff, Perritt, Winters, Benton, Barnes, and some good new material. There's Ryan and Shay from Toronto and one of the Barnes. Have a good infield with Kelly, Frisch, Bancroft, Rapp, Burkett. There's Snyder, Smith, Gonzales, Gaston, and Henline, catchers. And Burns and Young, left and right field, and the veterans Kauff and King at center.

HERMAN SCRAPS GEORGIE ADAMS IN BOUT TONIGHT

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Tomorrow night at the Manhattan Casino, Pete Herman, former bantam champion, and conqueror of Jimmy Wilde, will clash with Georgie Adams, the Chicago bantam, in the main event of fifteen rounds. Adams comes here with a record of forty-six knockouts out of a total of sixty-four fights, and his admirers are confident he will beat Herman.

If Herman succeeds in defeating Adams he is going after Joe Lynch once more in the hope of regaining the title which he lost to Joseph several months ago in Madison Square garden.

CITIES PUT IN BIDS FOR WILSON'S BOUT WITH MIKE GIBBONS

BY RAY PEARSON.

Information from Boston that Middleweight Champion Johnny Wilson's next opponent would be Mike Gibbons of St. Paul started local fans buzzing yesterday, for it became known that Milwaukee will be one of the cities bidding for the match. That, of course, would give local fans a chance to get an eyefull without dishing out too many pieces of silver for railroad fare.

Wilson has announced he will be ready and anxious to climb through the ropes to give "Phantom Mike" an argument within ninety days. He probably would be ready for action at an earlier date were it not for a bunged up hand, suffered in his recent bout with Mike O'Dowd.

There undoubtedly will be some lively bidding for this match, chiefly because Wilson finally has convinced promoters he is a real champion. New York naturally will have the whip hand, but is not at all sure of landing it, for St. Paul, Milwaukee, and Boston will be in the running with big coin offers.

This bout will bring Gibbons out of retirement. More than a year ago he tossed off the mitts, and since has been attending to the real estate business in his home town. Gibbons is nearly 33 years old, but doesn't figure that any handicap.

LEGION COMMANDERS GIVE UNANIMOUS O. K. FOR BOXING IN STATE

ANOTHER boost for boxing in Illinois!

The Cook County Commanders' association of the American Legion at a meeting held in the county building last night went on record unanimously as indorsing the passage of a bill to legalize boxing in Illinois.

The motion was made by Commander Thomas K. Davey of Forges post. One hundred and forty posts of the legion were represented. Col. John V. Clinnin, who is head of the legion in Illinois and president of the Commanders' association, was present.

It also was recommended that the department of Illinois act in accord.

OPERATION FOR O'DOWD; DOCTOR SAYS LOW BLOWS

New York, March 23.—[Special.]—Mike O'Dowd, former middleweight champion, underwent an operation in St. John's hospital in Long Island City for a hernia, which it is alleged developed from blows received during his contest with Johnny Wilson, March 17. Dr. H. V. Spaulding said that O'Dowd would be confined to the hospital for two weeks.

"I found bruises on the left and right side of O'Dowd's groin," said Dr. Spaulding, "and the condition of the patient would indicate that it was the result of external violence. I understand O'Dowd was examined before the fight and that there were no symptoms of hernia, which is conclusive that the hernia resulted from blows struck below the belt during the bout."

Central A. A. U. Mat Bouts on Schedule Tonight

Preliminary matches in the Central A. A. U. wrestling championships will be conducted by the Sleipner A. C. at Wicker Park hall, North avenue and Robey street, tonight. Bouts in all classes will be held and finals decided at the same place tomorrow night. The first bout will start at 8 o'clock.

EDITH CUMMINGS ONE OF 7 U. S. GOLFERS TO PLAY IN ENGLAND

New York, March 23.—The names of the seven American women entered in the championship match of the Ladies' Golf Union of Great Britain were given out here today from the offices of the United States Golf association. They are:

Miss Alexa Stirling of Atlanta, Ga., American woman champion; Miss Louise Elkins, and Miss Sara Fownes of the Oakmont, Pa., club; Miss Marion Hollins of the Westbrook, N. Y., club; Miss Edith Cummings of the Onwentsia club, Lake Forest, Ill.; Mrs. R. H. Barlow of the Merion Cricket club, Philadelphia, and Mrs. Thurston Wright of Allegheny, Pa.

Each match will be at eighteen holes except the final, which will be over the double route. All matches will be played at Turnberry, Ayreshire, Scotland, beginning May 30.

NOTES OF THE GOLFERS.

Rumors come from the east that the proposed professional invasion of England will be called off, as it is not possible to get a representative team. This will not affect the going of Jim Barnes and Walter Hagen.

Plans for the remodeling of the Chicago Golf club course are being held in abeyance pending the arrival of Charles B. Macdonald, who laid out the original course and was responsible for subsequent changes. There is some talk of plowing up some of the fairways to eliminate the dandelions.

Alexander H. Revell in his speech at the Cook County Municipal Golf association banquet described Chick Evans as the morning glory of American golf.

JOE WELLING NOT FOX FOE.

The Lewis-Walsh combination which manages Joe Welling, local lightweight, yesterday denied that Welling had lost an eight round bout with Al Fox at Philadelphia Tuesday night. It was "Young Joe" Welling of Philadelphia who fought Fox.

CRANE REPULSES LANE AND WENDS WAY INTO FINALS

Displaying a tight guarding combination, which stopped Lane's forwards dead, Crane Tech's heavyweight basketball team won its way to the final game of the City High School league championship race by defeating Lane, 8 to 6, at Englewood gym last night. The victory of Coach Henry Ruyter's boys upset all the dope of the fans, who had predicted an easy win for Lane.

Crane showed a well devised defense, having two guards cover Graessle of Lane, the best forward in the league. Lane had a 4 to 3 lead at half time, but Crane tightened in the last half and held the north siders scoreless. Johnston's basket and Ludvik's free throw in the last quarter gave Crane the victory.

Miles and Johnston were Crane's two stars, Miles leading the scoring with two baskets. Phil Pfleger featured for Lane, scoring three free throws. Kindt scored the only basket for Lane.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Not long ago all those famous fellows were with the Red Sox were world's champions. Now all of them are gone.

As it is, Hugh Duffy, who has taken the job of leading the Red Sox, is wrestling and struggling with a bunch of lesser lights, some of which haven't been reported because of salary differences.

Old Paprika Seems Lacking.

Some already here are working in a manner that lacks spirit and confidence, and the general impression among the experts of the game is that the Red Sox are doomed to a second division berth.

There are a few players of high standard still with the Boston outfit, and much depends upon the spirit those fellows display in the fight. Should they enter in the battle—as they may, because of the pleasing personality and ability of their manager—the Red Sox might here quite a strong crew on the field with a bit of help from some of the likely looking youngsters and a goodly portion of baseball luck.

Everett Scott, at short, is the best in the American league. Stuffy McInnis, who is booked for first base, he declares he'll not play for the salary offered, is one of the great first basemen. Del Pratt, who accepted the job of coach at the University of Michigan, is a capable man at second base.

Good Slabsters and Gardeners.

Sam Jones, Herb Pennock, and Joe Bush, when in shape, are three pretty fair pitchers, and the veteran Shauno Collins and Nemo Leibold, who are the two recent trade victims, are capable outfielders, but neither is a Harry Hooper.

However, if those fellows get into a bit of winning, through the managerial efforts of Duffy, the Red Sox will make trouble for a lot of teams, because there's sufficient talent among the lot to make trouble for the best of them. Because of the delay in signing of several of the regulars, the Red Sox are not likely to be well set for the start of the pennant race.

When the team was ready to start spring training Manager Duffy didn't know exactly what he would have. By disposing of Hooper for Jack Collins and Leibold of the White Sox, one of the difficulties was settled and he got two outfielders for one.

McInnis May Go, Too.

McInnis is just as determined in his claims for more money, and one should not be surprised if, even before the first rings for the first game, another trade will be announced and McInnis will find a new place to go. It isn't likely to trade off a fellow like Hooper for McInnis and get something to boot.

"Things look better than I expected" were the most encouraging words spoken by Manager Duffy. "I figured that if we could get the holdouts back into the Red Sox would not be a bad ball club. We have all but one in camp, that one being McInnis."

The pitching staff isn't impressive. Joe Bush, who has been troubled more or less with his arm for a year or two, looks to be the best looking of the lot, but he hardly will turn out games as in his better days. Sam Jones and Elmer Myers, once of the Athletics and Cleveland, will take a turn on the mound as usual. They have splendid records, some days.

Pennock a Good Port Wheeler.

Herb Pennock is a good southpaw pitcher and a good ball player. Allan Russell was a corking spitball flinger a year ago, but has been taking treatments for lameness or something, and lost out the training trip. Herb Thormahlen, another left hander, labored at times with New York before the Ruth trade, and had some splendid games. Benny Karr, with the team last year, looks like he might be one of the regulars now.

A youngster named Curtis Fullerton, from Jeff Tesreau's semi-pro team, looks fine, and so does Frank Talcott, a star at Yale three years ago. Ernest Bonis, from the London [Ont.] team, is a husky right hander and a fine hitter. Cliff Best, from the Imperial Valley California league, showed flashes of great stuff. Harold Brownell, from Nova Scotia, and George Carman, from London, Ont., are on hand, but rather green. The latter is a wee southpaw like Dick Kerr.

Muddy Ruel, with the Yanks last year, and Al Walters, with the Yanks one year before, are the catchers. Walters was one of the late ones getting into line. Burt Chaplin, with the team last year, will be the third man in the deck.

Shauno Collins May Be at First.

If McInnis doesn't return, some other first baseman is likely to be obtained in a trade for Stuffy. Then there is Shauno Collins, who first based for the White Sox so well last year, and who is slated for the outfield this year. Pratt is slated for second, if reports from Michigan in time. Scott will, of course, be at short, and either Vitt or Foster at third.

Harvey Hiller, utility last season, as well as Clif Brady, with the team this fall, are capable extra infielders. Judge Pittinger, a kid from the London (Ont.) team, has big league pep, but needs only experience.

17 PAIRS ATTAIN MONEY COUNTS IN A. B. C. FOR DAY

Buffalo, N. Y., March 23.—[Special.]—Eighty pairs and 158 individuals assaulted the wood in an attempt to knock off scores that would send them among the leaders in the American Bowling congress tournament today but their efforts were unrewarded, though an unusually good percentage did land within the money.

In the doubles event seventeen pairs qualified, while in the singles thirty-five individuals rolled counts that will bring them proportionate amounts of the singles prize fund.

648 for Day's High.

While many of Cleveland's star pinsmiths were on the drives, it was a Schenectady pair that rolled high for the day in the doubles, D. Uatrickias and E. Burke combining for a 1,211 count. In the singles W. S. Zymanski of Detroit was the leader with a 648.

An exceptionally good showing was made in select class shooting, eleven bowlers hitting over the 600 mark. D. Hackett of Cleveland, with 629; William Agnew of Cleveland, former president of the congress, with 628, and Johnny Mack of Detroit, with 626, were the high score artists of the day.

Denver Five in Money.

It took one of the far western teams to knock off high team total tonight, and, incidentally, to hammer its way into the money. The Dougherty five of Denver, Colo., by rolling 2,786, gained the distinction.

Former world's singles champion, Walter Pierce of Pueblo, Colo., rolled with the Oshkosh B'Gosh Overalls of Wisconsin and led the team with 589. His outfit cracked out a 2,709, which places it within the money.

No Chance for an Outsider to Lift This Lipton Cup

Ossining, N. Y., March 23.—A silver cup, to be held in competition from year to year among the baseball teams of Sing Sing prison, has been presented to the Mutual Welfare league by Sir Thomas Lipton, the English yachtsman, it was announced today.

NOTES OF THE CUE ROOMS.

Dr. H. W. Sutcliffe and Barry Kuhns of the Chicago Athletic association yesterday received word that their entries for the national amateur three cushion championship at the Detroit Athletic club had been accepted. Play will start Monday.

Preliminary games in the bank line championship of Illinois have been completed and the winners in the various districts are practicing for the finals in Chicago March 28.

W. V. Thompson has organzed a state billiard league in Wisconsin, which will model its championship after those being played in Illinois.

Chicago league games were played last night. At the Recreation, Walker [431 beat Moreau [45], 43 to 41, in seventy-four innings. Each had a high run of 4. At Reading's, Steffanson [42] beat Capron [42], 42 to 30, in 108 innings. Each had a high run of 3. At Schueneman's, Carlin [45] defeated Tredick [50], 45 to 47, in eighty-eight innings. Each had a high run of 5. At Haight's, Dr. Harris [48] beat Engel [48], 48 to 39, in ninety-five innings. Dr. Harris ran 6, while Engel's best was 4. Four games will be played tonight: Legros vs. Daugherty, at Hart's; Steffanson vs. Lundgren, at Lundgren & Sherwood's; Dr. Harris vs. Kieckhefer, at the Recreation, and Kenny vs. Walker at Lellingwell's Evanston room.

FLORIDA NOTES.

THE writer has just finished a wonderful fishing cruise among the keys south of Miami, Fla. We ran down from Miami the first day, putting up nights, anchoring in Angle Fish creek, which, by the way, is not a creek but a winding channel between Elliott key and Key Large.

From here southward one is in the greatest hook and line fishing grounds in the world. For abundance, variety, size, and gaminess of fish it would be hard to imagine anything better.

Next to the beauty of the thing the greatest charm is the uncertainty of what you have hooked. It may be a two pound bonito or an 800 pounds jew fish. Often you never know what you have until you get it to the boat to be gaffed.

One day trips out of Miami are popular. One can go either to the king fish grounds, where you can snake out these gamey fish until you tire, or you can work up and down the reefs below Cape Florida, getting groupers, barracuda, bonito, cero in abundance. If you are lucky you may also get amber jack, tuna, sail fish; from now on you may even hook a tarpon or two.

But the real top notch fishing you get only by a cruise of three days or more. In the vicinity of Key Large you are right in the heart of the big fish waters, where you get amber jacks and other big fishes that make your arms ache.

CUBS HAND VERNON TRIMMING; SCORE 7-5; THREE HURLERS USED

Los Angeles, Cal., March 23.—[Special.]—The Cubs beat Vernon today, 7 to 5. Manager Evers started Speed Martin and he worked well for five portions. Then Percy Jones tried to pitch, but issued five passes, and the boss had to call on Link Bailey so the athletes could get home in time for supper.

George Maisel proved the hero of the afternoon. Three times he took high dives to extinguish Vernon batsmen. Once he tipped over backwards and twice skidded along on his bosom to tackle low liners. Each time he came up with the ball.

Grimes Retires Sixteen.

Big Ray Grimes appeared at first base and retired sixteen men. Twice he drew bases on balls and once hammered out a hit that drove in a run. Hollocher performed brilliantly at short. He also contributed a three base hit off Slim Love, a left handed pitcher formerly with the New York Yankees. Not a man on either side struck out.

William Wrigley Jr., President William L. Veeck, and Johnny Powers, owner of the Los Angeles club, conferred today. It is understood that Powers' club is for sale and that Mr. Wrigley and A. D. Lasker are thinking of buying it. If the deal is consummated the transfer will be made within a few days.

Dicker Over Price.

Just now there is said to be a difference of several thousand dollars in the price of the club. The score:

LUTTEUR, 19 YEAR OLD HORSE, WILL RUN AT AUTEUIL

PARIS, March 23.—Lutteur III., the 19 year old racehorse owned by James Hennessy of cognac fame and winner of the Grand National steeplechase at Liverpool in 1909, has been entered to run at Auteuil next Sunday in the President of the Republic stakes. This event is for 75,000 francs over a distance of four and one-half kilometers.

Trainer Batchelor says the old horse is in fine condition and, if the track is soft and heavy, will have a great chance to win.

SOX QUIT CAMP TODAY; REGULARS START OUT ON EXHIBITION SIEGE

Waxahachie, Tex., March 23.—[Special.]—Spring training activities for the White Sox regulars will close so far as Waxahachie is concerned with tomorrow's workout. The Gleasonites commenced packing their effects tonight preparatory to hitting the trail at 6:25 tomorrow night, when they embark for Wichita Falls, where they are scheduled for games Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Goofs Remain in Camp.

Uniforms were dealt out to the members of the first and second squads today, the regulars drawing the road togs of gray and the Goofs the white regimentals. Both squads will stage a practice here tomorrow and the Yannigans will tackle Trinity college here Friday. The second stringers, in charge of Red Faber, will play at Belton Saturday and Sunday and with the University of Texas team at Austin Monday and Tuesday.

Releases are in order for three or four members of the second squad and they probably will learn the bad news tomorrow. It was whispered around camp that passports would be bestowed upon Pitchers Jorgensen, McWhorter, and Franks and First Baseman Monohan.

Gleason Drills Wilkinson.

Gleason gave Roy Wilkinson a long siege on the slab prior to the game with the Waxahachie High school boys this afternoon, and the tall right hander appeared exceedingly wild. A slight drizzle interfered with the pastime with the Waxahachie High school boys, but by hustling the pale hose won hands down, 10 to 1.

Waco may be picked as the White Sox training camp for next spring.

New York, March 23.—Edouard Horemans, Belgian billiard champion, increased his lead over Welker Cochran of San Francisco in their 4,800 point match at 18.2 balkline by scoring 800 points to Cochran's 689 in today's play. The grand total is, Horemans, 2,400; Cochran, 1,986.

Cochran won the afternoon game from Horemans, 575 to 400, making 408 points in his first three innings. Cochran had high runs in this block of 266, 111, and 97, an average of 95 5-6. Horemans had high runs of 197 and 67, and an average of 57 1-7.

In the night game Horemans won, 400 to 114. He had high runs of 214 and 97 and an average of 80. Cochran's high run was 107 and his average 28 2-4.

FARM and HOME by Frank Ridgway

FLOWER GARDENS.

FEW persons realize how easy it is to have their own flower garden. A big front lawn and a private gardener are not essential.

To lengthen the season of blooming give them an early start. With a few pennies you can get a half dozen packets of seeds and advance the flowering season several weeks by starting them in a box in the kitchen window.

Rush the work along and get the seed of the annual flowers that require a long growing season into the soil immediately. If asters are planted now they will send out their blossoms about the last of July instead of keeping their petals folded until September.

A packet of snap dragons planted now will furnish an early display, and for a bed of purple plant the old fashioned heliotrope. They are liked for their fragrance as well as color.

Any of the common annuals will do well if they are given a well drained and finely pulverized soil to grow in. Mourning brides, cosmos, and ten weeks' stocks may be started now in window boxes. For a tropical screen use castor beans.

NONPARTY MOVE DISCUSSED FOR PRESENT JUDGES

Brundage-Sweitzer Slate Being Weighed.

A nonpartisan ticket including the names of nearly all the sitting judges who are candidates for reelection and supported by combined Republican and Democratic forces may be launched for the election of June 6.

Only by such a combination, unbiased political observers say, can anything like a large majority of the present judges be returned to the bench. If the present lineup continues, they contend, probably at least one-half of the present Circuit bench will be put out of office by being caught in the wheels of factional politics.

With this prospect ahead, there has developed a possible solution whereby the Brundage-Deneen Republicans, instead of nominating a complete ticket of their own at their convention on April 25, will "get together" with the Sweitzer Democrats, whose convention is the next day, and nominate a joint ticket.

Looks on Move with Favor.

It cannot be said formal negotiations in this direction have been opened yet, but in the two camps mentioned the plan has met with considerable favor. Such a move would have the indorsement of the Chicago Bar association, it is believed, and if the effort is begun one of the first places at which it will be considered is at a conference in which the bar association is represented.

Basically the movement would be "anti-Thompson" and "anti-Lundin." The slogan would be "Save the courts," but another strong appeal would be "Save the south parks from the spoilsmen," because the election of the south park commissioners rests in the hands of the Circuit judges. It also would be pointed out that the park board is looking forward to the expenditure of $69,000,000 in the execution of the Chicago plan.

It is contended that this scheme is the only method that would checkmate the plans of the city hall organization to put its own judicial ticket in the field at the conventions of the "Francis committee" and the "Barrett committee" on May 3, regardless of the strength shown in the convention called by the "Galpin committee" April 25.

Shy at Three Ticket Race.

If on the latter date the Brundage-Deneen convention nominates a ticket, it is believed the Thompson convention, eight days later, will place a second ticket in the field. Having the election machinery in their power, the city hall forces would place the Thompson ticket in the Republican column on the ballot. This would compel the filing of the anti-Thompson slate by petition and it would then appear in the "independent" column.

This would mean a three ticket race, with the results uncertain, say those who favor a Brundage-Sweitzer combination, but they are agreed that a number of the present Circuit judges would fall by the wayside.

In discussions on these points the division of the twenty places on the Circuit bench also has been considered. Of that number the Republicans now hold fifteen and the Democrats five. Here it is suggested that the protection demanded for the "sitting judges" need not include men appointed to fill vacancies. Upon such an understanding the Democrats might be given a greater share of the twenty places.

POLICE BAR SALE OF FORD'S PAPER "TO KEEP PEACE"

Sale of the Dearborn Independent, Henry Ford's publication, on the streets was prohibited yesterday by police order, following a conference between Acting Corporation Counsel James W. Breen and Capt. Patrick Lavin of the central station.

Earlier in the day City Clerk Igoe had received a petition from the Thirty-fourth Ward Young People's Hebrew Republican club requesting that Mayor Thompson and the city council take action.

"Capt. Lavin informed me that the anti-Semitic attitude of the paper, which was being sold in competition with a Jewish paper, recently caused a fist fight which threatened to grow into a riot," Mr. Breen said. "The city's action was taken under its general police powers with a view to keeping the peace."

GUS SCHAFERNEO.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

In actual years Gus Schaferneo is only 10. But in ambition Gus would rival a young Charles Schwab. Gus wants to do big things. But his story, as he summed it up, is "I have been held down at home."

When his stepmother, Mrs. Mary Kohanke, 1314 West Grand avenue, wanted him to do anything about the house, Gus answered he wanted to work. So yesterday Mrs. Kohanke brought him down to the Juvenile court.

The judge said Gus was to go on a farm, to be given a tryout as a farmer, and Gus was happy. Today new vistas open up for him.

TELLS JURY HOW EDDIE MORRIS SHOT MULLEN

Witnesses Point Out Police Slayer.

The state concluded its case against Eddie Morris, Eddie McBride, and John McEvilly, the three young men charged with the murder of Policeman John Mullen, yesterday.

Two surprise witnesses were introduced by Assistant State's Attorney William Scott Stewart, both of whom identified Morris as the man who fired the shot that killed Mullen. Other witnesses told of finding revolvers belonging to McBride and McEvilly, which, it is asserted, were in their possession on the night of the murder.

Clarence S. Cleff, an eye-witness, told of standing on the corner near the Lincoln Gardens when he noticed a waiter rush from the café.

"Stuck Gun in Mullen's Ribs."

"When the policeman went in, I followed," Cleff said. "I saw the policeman enter. Morris stuck a gun in his ribs and forced him to throw up his hands. As he reached for the policeman's gun, I shouted a warning. A second later Morris fired, and Mullen fell.

"Morris then ran out and climbed into an automobile, and sped away."

George Stutz, proprietor of the Lincoln Gardens, testified that Morris had walked up to Mullen and shot him.

Describes Morris' Capture.

Sergt. Michael Grady told of the capture of Morris in a corn shock near Ninety-first street.

"I located him in a corn shock," he said. "After placing eight men around the place where he was hiding, I called to him to come out. I told him I'd fill him full of lead if he refused.

"We fired about eighteen shots, and then called again. He still refused, so we fired again. Later two men climbed on the shock and found him buried in the corn. Morris said he had been in the garden on the night of the murder. He also admitted firing a revolver while in there."

Link Mystery Shooting with Three Suspects

While Walter Osinynski of 12 South Loomis street, who was shot and thrown from a speeding automobile Tuesday night, hovered between life and death yesterday at the county hospital, policemen learned he had been seen to leave the saloon of his stepbrother, John Osinynski, on the day of the shooting with three men. An effort is being made to connect the shooting with the case of Antonio Jones, 1245 West Madison street, thrown from an automobile the same day.

MERRIAM FINDS MAYOR'S STREET CAR BILL IS O. K.

Has a Few Changes He Thinks Desirable.

BY E. O. PHILLIPS.

Springfield, Ill., March 23.—[Special.]—Charles E. Merriam, formerly alderman and one time candidate for mayor of Chicago, shot a surprise into the legislature today by taking a stand that practically aligns him with Mayor Thompson's local transportation district proposal.

Capt. Merriam and former Senator Hull spoke before a crowded public hearing of the senate and house utility commissions, considering Chicago's street car problem.

The two differed materially in their recommendations.

Mr. Hull stood unalterably for the submission of a legislative amendment whereby the city could exercise municipal ownership of street cars and other utilities and operate the same through bond issues upon a cost basis.

Doesn't Fight Mayor's Plan.

Capt. Merriam produced the surprise when he said without reservation that the mayor's scheme was necessarily no bugaboo.

Capt. Merriam's reservations to the Thompson plan were few, but important. One was the necessity of having a referendum on all major bond issues and upon all questions where a distinct and new line of public policy with respect to the companies was to be considered. He favored five trustees with four year terms, one elected each year, with a president to be chosen at one of the annual elections.

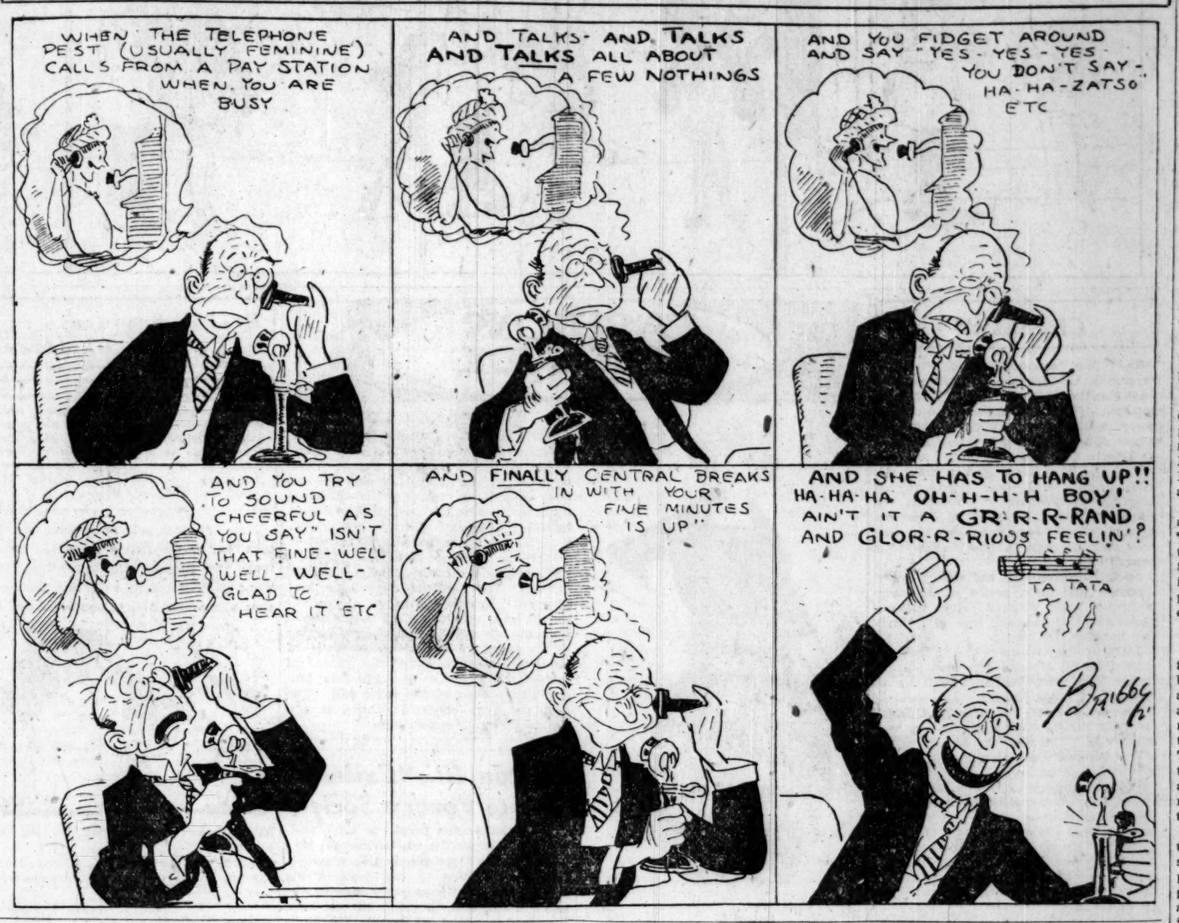

He Has Some Changes.

Capt. Merriam favored another amendment that would permit bond issues up to 5 per cent of full valuation for the purpose of taking over the street car properties, which he figured would furnish an aggregate of $160,000,000 on present assessment figures, rather that the $80,000,000 as carried in the mayor's proposal.

He also favored an amendment that would permit necessary questions to go to a referendum by petitions of one-half of 1 per cent, rather than the 5 per cent minimum included in the bill.

Capt. Merriam told the lawmakers that the first thing that must be accomplished to satisfy Chicago is to restore home rule to the city council in the regulation of rates and service.

AIN'T IT A GRAND AND GLORIOUS FEELIN'?

ZONING REPORT WARNS AGAINST PIECEMEAL JOB

A warning that piecemeal zoning of Chicago into residential, commercial and industrial districts will result in a tangle of mandamus and injunction proceedings and a loss of the chief benefits of zoning was issued yesterday by the council local industries committee in a report to the zoning commission which Mayor Thompson has failed for thirteen months to appoint.

BEG YOUR PARDON

In the announcement of the Bert Leston Taylor memorial meeting to be held Sunday afternoon at the Blackstone theater it was stated that the Cliff Dwellers had planned a meeting for Saturday. The meeting of Saturday is that of the Midland Authors and will be held as originally planned. It is confined to members and guests, whereas the Sunday meeting will be public. In the same announcement it was said that the Wayfarers' club is represented on the committee of arrangements by Charles Collins and Henry Kitchell Webster. They are members of the Cliff Dwellers' committee.

THE TRIBUNE of March 21 in a story on bowling said the Heissler Bakeries team rolled 2,690. The Heissler Storage Battery company team made the score.

He competed for Michigan. This explains an apparent discrepancy between the summary totals and the correct totals published at the head of the story.

CELEBRATION of Easter in Chicago really began yesterday when the Lincoln park board staged an exhibit of Easter lilies at the park conservatory. All varieties of the flowers which custom has linked with the feast of the resurrection were shown and the display attracted many visitors.

Sunday afternoon the Chicago veterans of the 108th engineers corps will hold a military funeral for Private Clarence James Ross, who was killed in action on Aug. 8, 1918, at Villers Brettoneaux. The services will be held at 2701 North Clark street.

Expert Predicts Repeal of Excess Profits Tax

Attorney James J. Forstall at a noon meeting of the City club yesterday predicted the repeal of the excess profits tax. Mr. Forstall was formerly a special attorney in the internal revenue office at Washington and also served as a member of the tax committee of the national industrial conference board.

NEW "LAKE SHORE DRIVE" ON SOUTH SIDE ASSURED

Business and romance occupied the attention of the south park commissioners yesterday.

The business came in the form of an announcement that they had voted to construct a south side lake shore driveway that will connect Chicago with the Lincoln highway.

The romance entered with the much talked of question, "Shall the old Field museum be restored or destroyed?" Ferdinand Peck, Chicago's oldest citizen, made a plea for the preservation of the historic structure.

The commissioners took the museum matter under advisement after George W. Maher, chairman of the Illinois chapter of the American Institute of Architects, had presented figures showing it would cost $1,640,000 to restore the building.

The commissioners had voted on the new lake shore driveway proposition March 9, but withheld announcement until yesterday. The driveway will be built from Grant park along the lake front, as filled in, to Twenty-third street, then will take the form of a viaduct over the Illinois Central tracks and will continue on South Park avenue, which will be widened to 198 feet. A parkway forty-five feet wide will run down the center of the boulevard, which will merge into Grand boulevard.

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Question.

What do you think of the death penalty for morons who have been convicted of criminal assault in the first degree?

Where Asked.

The Answers.

George E. Tamm, 646 North Catherine street, La Grange, Ill., engineer—I don't think the death penalty should be imposed, unless a man commits a deliberate murder. They should be put in an asylum and kept there forever.

B. C. Rich, 6504 Harvard avenue, construction engineer—I believe this class of people are not responsible for their actions. The death penalty should not be imposed upon them. But I do believe that our present laws are not strict enough. Morons are being released from our courts every day.

James F. O'Rourke, salesman—The death penalty is none too severe. Any man who ruins a woman's or child's life ought to be hanged. I think that 75 per cent of these morons are responsible for their actions. The proper thing for the authorities to do, is to handle these cases without the usual amount of red tape.

W. E. Scott, 130 South Grove avenue, Oak Park, Ill., salesman—I do not believe in the death penalty for these people. We should establish an institution for them, as we have for the insane, and they should be kept locked up, away from society forever.

John Nelson, 1755 Roscoe street, bridge tender—In my opinion, there are not twelve men who would sit on a jury who would impose the death penalty for this crime. However, if anything would happen to any member of my family I think I would be tempted to take the law into my own hands.

PRAISE KILLING BY POLICEMAN.

Policeman William Schultz of the West Chicago avenue police was commended for killing Henry Mielke, 18 years old, by a coroner's jury yesterday. On the roof of the Hub theater, 1744 Clybourn avenue, March 14, Mielke and two companions fought a revolver battle with the police.

22 NEW SCHOOLS AT $25,500,000 FOR CITY'S KIDS

Board Puts O. K. on Huge Mortenson Program.

Adequate housing facilities for Chicago's school children were assured yesterday when the board of education passed Supt. Mortenson's $25,500,000 building program.

Construction of at least ten of the contemplated school buildings is expected to be started during the summer. Work on the first building, at Marshfield avenue and Jonquil terrace, Rogers Park, will probably be started at once.

"If the bids are not too high we will start at once," said Mr. Mortenson. "At any rate I can assure the public that by Sept. 1 we will have room for 8,000 more seats in the schools, making it possible to accommodate that many pupils who are not attending school during regular hours.

22 New Schools in Three Years.

Mr. Mortenson's program provides for the erection of twenty-two school buildings within three years. Eighteen are to be elementary schools costing approximately $750,000 each. Four new high school buildings will cost in the neighborhood of $3,000,000 each. The elementary schools each will have thirty-two classrooms, a gymnasium, an assembly hall, and special study rooms. The high schools will be patterned after the Lindbloom school.

It was declared by Mr. Mortenson that never before has the city needed so much additional housing for its pupils. During the last year 59,000 pupils were added to the public schools and as a result the teaching staff was increased by 607. More than 30,000 children had to be accommodated in 656 portable buildings.

Teacher Is Promoted.

The school board approved the appointment of Miss Flora C. Dunning, a teacher in the Lake View High school, to the principalship of the Tennyson elementary school. Miss Hope W. Graham was appointed dean of girls at the Lake View High school, with an increase in salary of $300 annually.

Two classrooms in the Dante school, 810 South Desplaines street, were ordered to be utilized for the instruction of deaf, blind, and dumb children.

WATCHMAN WHO ANNOYED GIRLS GETS $200 FINE

Jancz is a watchman for the Dragon Motors corporation at 3900 North Claremont avenue. Witnesses said he accosted Rose Parker, 16, and Josephine Rada, 17, followed them into the vestibule of their home at 3015 Gresham avenue, and attempted to attack them.

The girls screamed, and Walter Lowandowski and Peter O'Parka, roomers in the house, came to their rescue. Jancz showed fight, but the girls summoned Policeman H. L. Hepp, who subdued the man after a battle.

SCANLAN TO BE SOLOMON IN ROW OF WOMEN'S CLUB

Judge Scanlan's courtroom was packed yesterday with women who represent two factions of the Protestant Women's National association. Each group is conducting a court fight to oust the other from power.

They were before Judge Scanlan in a hearing to determine whether the master in chancery's report, which decided in favor of the faction headed by Mrs. Jennie Turpin, should be accepted.

Mrs. Turpin was voted out of the presidency of the organization at a meeting called by Mrs. Ida S. Brough on April 2, 1920. Four days later Mrs. Ida Stephens was elected president.

On June 23, 1920, Mrs. Turpin, her opponents allege, entered the league's home at 6323 Yale avenue, with her friends, and "took physical possession." She has since been in charge of the home and its books. Judge Scanlan will hear further testimony today.

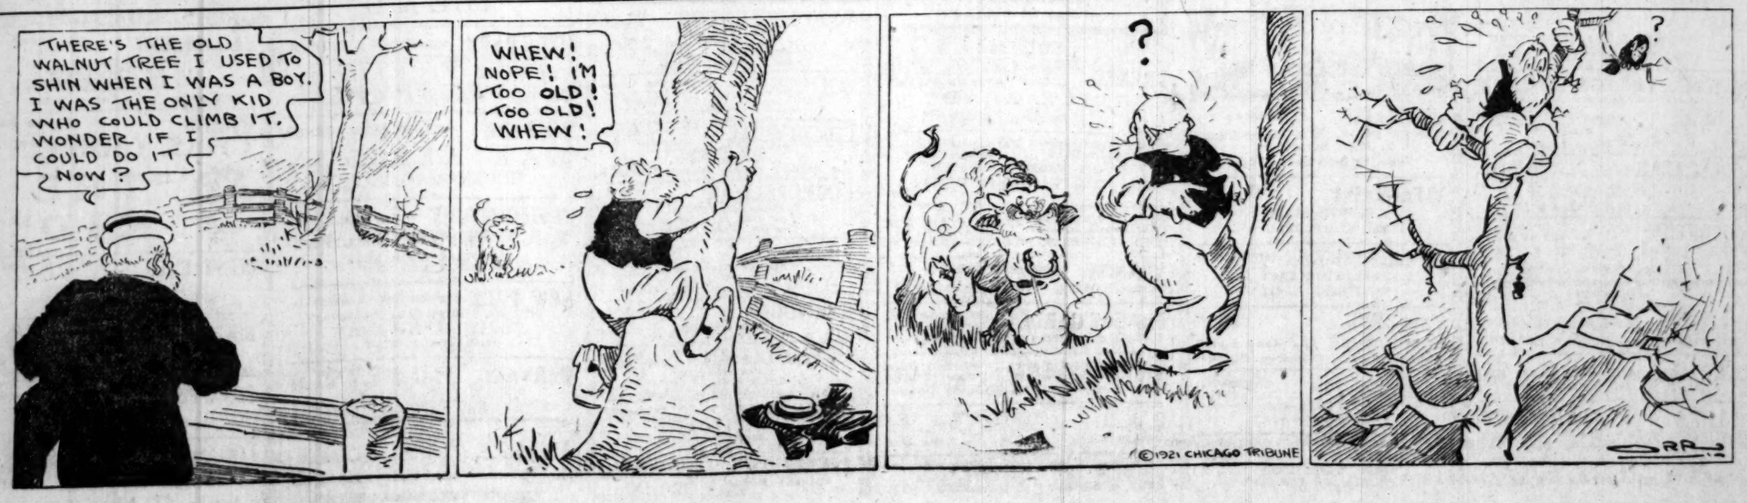

U.S. Chamber of Commerce Plans $2,700,000 Quarters

A headquarters building in Washington to cost $2,700,000 is being planned for the United States Chamber of Commerce. This was learned yesterday following a session of directors of the organization at the Congress hotel. President Joseph H. Defrees was informed that Russia had asked the United States to enter into a trade agreement following the lines of the treaty between Great Britain and Russia. He would not predict the attitude of the chamber.

Ericson Says Chlorine Has Cut Death Rate Here

Liquid chlorine in Chicago's water has resulted in a great saving of life, former City Engineer John Ericson last night told the Illinois and Iowa Water Works association in the Hotel La Salle. He said the death rate from typhoid fever has fallen from 175 per thousand to 1 per thousand. It was still a question, he added, whether chlorine would solve the problem of providing pure water. If not, he said, filtration would be necessary, and this would mean a great expense.

IT would seem that if one is to bring up a pretty baba in the way she should go, one should not cross the pretty baba. One should let her have her own way—as the theory is that then she won't want it.

The pretty baba in the case under discussion is—pretty Bebe Daniels, who as Teddy Simpson is beset by an Aunty Weeks. And aunty, deeply interested in the welfare of her baffling charge, makes the fatal mistake of trying to enforce discipline.

Because Teddy takes to discipline like a cat to water, she is compelled to spend much of her time in her own room. A pretty baba must be amused, so Teddy invents a new game. She calls up people on the telephone. The people are masculine and unknown. She merely opens the book, shuts her eyes, says "hocus pocus," and picks out a number.

It chances in the delightful manner of the pictures that the men she calls turn out to be good fellows and bosom friends of her fiancé. O, yes, she's engaged, but she doesn't take it seriously. She objects to her Roy because he is so exemplary and her argument is:

"Why should I marry you when you're hanging around all the time anyhow?" (Pretty good argument at that.)

Fearing that if she is left too long to her own devices she may chance upon devouring wolves, her Roy and his friends set out to teach her a lesson.

Follows the rest of the picture, which see for yourselves.

"Ducks and Drakes" is frothy, expensively gotten up, well put on and directed, and pleasingly acted. It makes an hour go quickly.

CLOSEUPS

In "The Mysterious Rider," being produced by Benjamin B. Hampton, Carl Gantvoort has a part. This is of interest to "legitimate" fans, who were wild, simply wild, about him when he appeared with Wilda Bennett in 1918 in "The Riviera Girl."

For the first time in his little life Will Rogers will wear tights in his coming production, "Doubling for Romeo." They do say his legs are beyewtiful. He says sure they are, else how did he stay in the Follies four years?

Jack Gardner and his wife, Louise Dresser, will do a series of domestic comedies with Willard Louis playing opposite Miss Dresser and Mr. Gardner bossing the job.

Little Wesley Ruggles has again been signed up by Metro. His first picture under the new contract will be in support of Alice Lake.

They say that "'Peck's Bad Boy," starring little Jackie Coogan, the wee wonder in "The Kid," made a hit when given its premiere showing in a suburb of Los Angeles.

It is announced by D. F. Kelly, chairman, that the amusement industry of the United States—stage and screen—has pledged its support to the nonpolitical, nonsectarian effort of the American committee for relief in Ireland, to obtain $10,240,000 to provide food and shelter for children and women in Ireland.

NEW YORK.—[Special Correspondence.]—We sometimes have a clear vision of what the poet meant when he spoke of the glory that was Greece. For Greece, as far as our classical reading has taken us, was without taffeta costumes. Really, you know, it is appalling to be a fashion writer and to be confronted with at least a thousand new models of taffeta or part taffeta. Your taffeta adjectives just give out. Consequently, we absolutely refuse to say anything about the above costume beyond the necessary diagram of its parts. The corsage is made of vermilion taffeta, and the skirt, of plaited gray crêpe de chine, is bordered with band of the same silk. The sash, of gray crêpe de chine, is embroidered in vermilion silk.

Canton, Ill., "Exiles" to Form a Society

Chicagoans who formerly were residents of Canton, Ill., the town that was the "big city" for Edgar Lee Masters, poet and lawyer, in the days of his boyhood in the Spoon river region, will gather Monday, March 28, at the Brownleigh club, 157 North Michigan avenue, to form a society.

Three hundred have signified their intention of being present. Frank Bennett, with a studio in the Fine Arts building, and R. E. Kenny of the International Harvester company are among those instrumental in plans for this.

Mary Louise had been told not to take her baby sister, Patricia, away from the house with her when she went visiting a little neighbor, Bernice. One afternoon Mary Louise came to said neighbor's with Patricia tagging along.

Bernice's mother said: "Why, Mary Louise, you have brought Patricia with you, haven't you?"

"Oh, no," exclaimed Mary Louise, "mamma won't let me take her with me, she just came along behind me."

Francis and Carol were delighted at an unexpected gift of just two pieces of candy. Francis was quick and gave one to sister, keeping the decidedly larger one for himself. Mother remarked that a gentleman would give the larger one to the lady, whereupon an exchange took place. Sister had seen the point, for she immediately re-exchanged, exclaiming, proudly, "See mother, I'm a gentleman, too!"

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

NEW YORK SOCIETY

New York March 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. Henry M. Alexander will entertain a number of guests at luncheon tomorrow afternoon.

MRS. HENRY M. ALEXANDER. [Copyright: U. & U.]

Mr. and Mrs. John Jefferson Flowers Steiner are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter on Sunday last. Mrs. Steiner will be remembered as the former Miss Marion Baldwin of Lakewood, N. J.

Sulphur—Quickly Soothes Burning Eczema

Any breaking out or skin irritation on face, neck or body is overcome quickest by applying Mentho-Sulphur. Because of its germ destroying properties, we believe nothing has ever been found to take the place of this sulphur preparation that instantly brings ease from the itching, burning and irritation.

Mentho-Sulphur heals eczema quickly, leaving the skin clear and smooth. It seldom fails to relieve the irritation or blemish. A small jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be obtained at any drug store. It is used like cold cream. Mentho-Sulphur Co., New York.

DORIS BLAKE'S ANSWERS

After One Year.

"Dear Miss Blake: What do you think of a husband who neglects his wife just to be with his men friends all the time? It is one year that we are married. D. J."

I would want to know first if the man's wife were not just a bit responsible. I would want to know if she made home as attractive for him as she might. If she kept herself as neat and pretty as in the days when he came a-courting. The average man is a domestic creature by nature, and if he gets a nice, comfortable chair in a warm, cozy corner, his pipe, his paper, and a girl who does not nag and complain, he is fairly pliable material. Naturally, there are exceptions. Is he one?

ENGAGEMENTS

Mrs. Lewis Robbins Lamb of 39 East Division street has announced the engagement of her daughter, Winnifred, to Louis K. Boysen of 420 Wrightwood avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul G. Stoeckert of 2848 Wilson avenue announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen, to Mr. Walter Jungmeyer of Seattle, Wash., son of the Rev. and Mrs. A. Jungmeyer of Lincoln, Neb. Miss Stoeckert is a graduate of Ferry Hall, Lake Forest, and Mr Jungemeyer of Nebraska State university. No date has been set for the wedding.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

One of the prettiest of the baked egg dishes or what is sometimes called eggs "en cocotte," as well as shirred eggs is prepared as follows: Allow for each one or two eggs one-half of a canned pimento. Chop the pimento rather fine heat it up in a bit of butter, and then put the destined amount into the special dish—a more or less saucerlike dish—in which an egg or eggs are to be cooked. Break a fresh eggs on top of pimento, add salt and perhaps a grating of white pepper, and two tablespoons of cream per egg.

Bake in the oven for five or six minutes, hot oven, or it may be cooked in the broiling oven, at a proper distance from the fire. When the oven has to be heated up just for this, it will be economical to use the lower or broiling oven.

Baked eggs are infinitely superior to the old shirred eggs which were simply broken into a buttered saucer and baked, if some cream or even milk is poured over them.

Helen Keller, Blind "Bluebird," Tells of Love for Stage

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES.

"WHY, she's the funniest actress I ever saw, and she says the most nonsensical things I ever heard," said Miss Helen Keller, who has not heard nor seen since infancy, as she sat in the wings of the Majestic theater yesterday afternoon awaiting her turn.

"Actors and actresses, I love them," continued Miss Keller, remembering to lower her voice when the song on the stage was over. "Work and sleep, with a bite to eat every now and then, that's my life now; but I like it."

"When I'm on the road like this I don't have much time to read, but I am very fond of your Carl Sandburg. I met Chesterton the other day. He talked with me for over an hour; he's a darling," and she gave an almost coquettish shrug of the shoulders as she punctuated the sentence with a high, rather pathetically mechanical laugh.

"BEAUTY"

MISS EDNA WHEATON.

In the studio of Famous Players on Long Island, where she is to be featured in the films, she met a score of stars and near-stars. And—the little choir singer from Ithaca, N. Y., had a novel experience for young women of today. She applied her first make-up—or, rather, had it applied by Nita Naldi.

Miss Wheaton was a little camera-shy at first, so much so that they had to take her scenes with Richard Barthelmess, her leading man, over again. But her director, George Fitzmaurice, told her not to worry—she'd soon get over it.

Miss Wheaton will appear as "Beauty" in a new allegorical production, "Experience," which will be released within the next two months.

De Paul University Players Produce Their Own Drama

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Tribune will pay $1 for every letter published on "The Most Embarrassing Moment of My Life." Address Embarrassing Moments, Chicago Tribune. Write on one side of the paper. No manuscript returned.

O, What a Tangled Web!

I was visiting in the country one summer, and did not bring a wrap. One night it was quite cold, and a friend of mine came to take me for a drive. I was anxious to make a good impression. He insisted that I wear a coat. I said I did not need one. He was so persistent that finally I told him a friend had borrowed my coat. Then he insisted that we go straight after it. So off we started for the girl's home. I ran up the stairs to her room, resolved that if her coat was not in her room I would stay there rather than come down without it. It was there, however, and I took it and ran downstairs. We didn't get out of the yard soon enough for me, for I was afraid some of the family would see us and there would be an explanation due.

The general average price of hogs advanced 15c yesterday to $9.65, while the day's top at $10.75 showed 50c decline from the high point of Tuesday. There was a general narrowing of the price range, some 220@300 lb averages selling 20@50c above the close on the previous day. Light weights were in more liberal supply.

Eastern shippers absorbed 8,000 of the 14,000 hogs received and were a strengthening factor in the trade. The first half of this week nearly half the 56,600 received were taken by shippers, leaving the net supply for local packers at 30,000, against 74,000 a week ago.

Big Drop in Calves.

Excessive receipts of veal calves forced a further decline in values, most offerings selling $1.00 below Tuesday, with some as much as $2.00 below the level late last week. Packers bought largely at $9.00@9.50, while shippers paid up to $10.75.

General conditions in the cattle trade were unsatisfactory, with closing sales weak to 25c lower, feeding steers showing the full extent of the decline. No fat steers sold above $10.50, while good feeders went at $8.50@9.00. Bulk of cows and heifers sold at $6.50@7.50.

Both local and outside orders for sheep and lambs were larger and with comparatively small receipts values ruled strong to 25c higher. Packers paid up to $10.85 for Colorado lambs and shippers went to $10.60. Fancy shorn yearlings sold at $7.25 and wooled wethers at $6.50.

Studebaker.

W. W., Canton, Ill.—The Studebaker corporation reported net earnings amounting to $15.19 a share on $60,000,000 of common stock in 1920, compared with $28.54 a share on $30,000,000 of stock in 1919, which in December, 1919, was increased to $45,000,000. In 1920 the company sold 51,474 automobiles and in the first nine months of the year earned more than ever before. In the fourth quarter business slackened. The surplus was reduced by the distribution of a $15,000,000 stock dividend last summer and it now stands at $9,822,048. As trade marks and good will are still carried at $19,807,277, it appears that net tangible assets are about $10,000,000 below the face value of outstanding common stock.

Savings and Life Insurance.

D. E. K.—The Western State bank of Cicero is offering a combination of savings account and life insurance. The client deposits a certain sum per month, the amount varying somewhat with his age. At the end of ten years he withdraws $1,000, which equals the total he has deposited plus a low rate of interest. If he dies before ten years his estate or some designated member of his family receives the full $1,000. The Lincoln National Life Company of Indiana carries the insurance. Both insurance company and bank are in good standing and the plan is sound. Various Indiana banks are using it.

Need Not Buy Back Bonds.

A. F. K.—Bond houses in general buy back bonds from customers "at the market." Local real estate bond houses in ordinary times buy them back at 1 per cent below the sale price as an accommodation to customers, but with no legal obligation. If investors could compel bond dealers to buy back all bonds at the sale price every bond house in the world more than two or three years old would now be in bankruptcy.

Brief Answers.

E. H.—The Buckeye Pipe Line company earned 16 per cent on its $10,000,000 of stock in 1920, about the same as in 1919. It is paying 16 per cent a year in dividends, adding a little to surplus, which equals 98 per cent of capital.

Chicago, the Telephone City

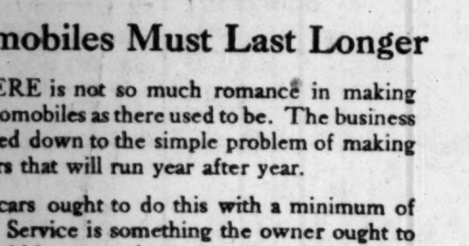

MORE telephone apparatus (switchboards, telephone instruments, etc.) is made in Chicago than in any other city in the world. Over 60 per cent of the world's supply is manufactured in this city. The annual production of telephone apparatus all over the earth is valued at $110,000,000 of which $68,000,000 is produced in Chicago.

In addition to the telephones actually manufactured in Chicago, the companies whose principal plants are here, through subsidiaries operating in England, France, Belgium, Australia, Japan, China and many other foreign countries, project their genius in the designing and making of telephone apparatus into almost every corner of the globe.

Chicago, the Wonder City—The commercial progress of Chicago is one of the marvels of the century. In common with other financial institutions, the growth of the Harris Trust and Savings Bank is largely dependent on the growth of Chicago. And the growth of Chicago rests on the faith and vision of its citizens. In a series of advertisements, of which this is the Twelfth, we are trying to set forth a few of the achievements of this great city. Chicago will continue to contribute to the benefit of its citizens in proportion to their faith in its future.

Automobiles Must Last Longer

THERE is not so much romance in making automobiles as there used to be. The business has settled down to the simple problem of making good cars that will run year after year.

The cars ought to do this with a minimum of repairs. Service is something the owner ought to get out of his car, and not something he pays for having done to it every little while.

That is a plain, unpolished statement of the reason the Standard Steel Car Company of Pittsburgh is making automobiles and is going to keep on making them. The name of the Standard Eight is not a spectacular name, but it is coming to mean much in the automobile field. It means power and stability and utility. The car is good-looking enough to sell on its looks, but the real reasons for buying it are back at the factory in Butler, Pa.

STEEL INDUSTRY RIDES SEESAW; EXPORTS LOWER

The New York and Chicago stock exchanges will be closed tomorrow for the Good Friday holiday, but will be open Saturday. The New York cotton, coffee, and sugar exchanges will be closed both days. The banks will be open both days.

BY O. A. MATHER.

The confusing factors in the readjustment of the country's business and industry are reflected in the news budget of the last few days. In the steel industry some improvement is noted by the midweek reviews. The mild revival in building has caused better buying of steel for construction, while the automobile industry seems to have passed its low point, as evidenced by some reinstatement of voluminous cancellations.

But, although small orders are many, they have not served to increase average steel plant activities. The higher cost of restricted operations has offset recent wage reductions, more blast furnaces have been shut down, and pig iron output is being reduced to the minimum. Still the week's production of structural steel was the best in many months. In foreign markets both Germany and England have underbid American prices and secured orders.

New Light on Exports.

On the score of foreign trade, the government statement on exports of agricultural commodities throws new light on February's total. From figures previously given out it appeared that total exports had fallen heavily, the decrease from January being $165,000,000 and from February, 1920, $155,000,000. The separate figures now given for last month's exports of cotton breadstuffs and oil show a combined decrease of $59,000,000 from January and $81,000,000 from February, 1920. This would mean all other exports last month were $106,000,000 smaller than in January and $74,000,000 below February, 1920.

Of such a decrease, outside of agricultural products, no previous monthly statement had given any sign. It would mean apparently that the long predicted shrinkage in manufactured exports has begun. Secretary Hoover, however, states the real secret lies in the dilatoriness of agents of the bureau of commerce, who have carried over to a subsequent month such export figures as came in too late for convenient inclusion in the month of shipment.

What Happened to Cotton.

The revised figures on last season's cotton production throw additional light on the industry's extraordinary situation. On the basis of actual ginnings the crop estimate has been raised to 13,365,754 bales, which exceeds by a million bales any crop since the 16,134,930 bales of 1914, when the price fell to 7¼ cents a pound at the close of the year, and when the south was for a time apparently in as great distress as now.

The world's consumption of American cotton was very large before 1914 and the 1913 carry over was comparatively small. But when the 1920 crop began to come to market there were 5,500,000 bales of the old crop left. This brought the total supply to probably a larger total than even in 1914, and it occurred not only on the eve of a crop exceeded only five times in our history, but at a moment when trade reaction was about to reduce home consumption by 10 to 20 per cent and exports by 25 to 30 per cent, compared with the preceding year.

The New York Times.

NEW YORK, March 23.—[Special.]—Today's vigorous recovery on the stock exchange, which affected the whole market and occasioned well distributed advances running from 1 to 5 points, resulted primarily from hurried repurchases by recent speculative sellers. Studebaker led the upturn with an advance of 5⅛ points.

It had been evident for more than a week that, at ruling prices, even the professional fraternity was, on the whole, more willing to buy than sell. The efforts of irreconcilable "bears" to upset the market by concentrating artificial pressure on two or three stocks served chiefly to disclose the fact that, while the total amount of shares carried on borrowed money was the smallest since the first weeks of 1919, the outstanding and uncovered "short account" had reached exceptionally large magnitude.

Gold Imports Big Factor.

Wall street, which has had these facts before its eyes since the middle of the month, insisted today on something more and began to talk of a traditional "spring rise in stocks." The safer inference from experience is that the arrival of the spring season will at any rate set new forces at work upon the markets. It is, for instance, quite conceivable that, even if easier money is delayed, gold imports in a quantity seldom paralleled might in the present circumstances catch the financial imagination.

Our import of more than $100,000,000 gold thus far in 1921, against an export of less than $5,000,000, compares with an excess of $90,000,000 gold exports for the corresponding period of 1920. Heretofore such a movement has been a forerunner of economic recuperation.

Better Business in Sight.

The key to a financial change with anything like permanency will rest, however, on the course of events in general business and in the railway situation, and of neither have we as yet much visible evidence. But there are signs in one or two industries that better business is in sight and the full test will occur when the spring trade is fairly under way on the basis of last winter's heavily reduced wholesale prices and the retail merchant is compelled to conform to them.

As for the railway dilemma, that rests on what are as yet two uncertainties, the action of the railway labor board on the wage reductions in the light of falling labor costs, and the attitude of congress in its inquiry. Conjecture as to the favorable or unfavorable results in either direction will exert large influence on financial sentiment.

CORN AND OATS HIT NEW LOWS; WHEAT RALLIES

BY CHARLES D. MICHAELS.

News and trade conditions were against constructive operations in the grain markets yesterday and prices declined to the lowest levels of the season for corn and oats. Liquidation and general selling pressure dominated, while the main support was profit taking on the part of the leading local professionals, who were mostly bearish. Low prices have no attraction for the average trader, as he is constantly looking for further declines.

While wheat had a good rally in the last fifteen minutes, coarse grains remained easy and finished with corn off 1@1¼c and oats ½@⅝c, while wheat was 1⅜@1½c lower; rye was ¼c higher to 1⅝c lower, and barley was ¼c lower. Provisions were easy, with pork off 15c and lard and ribs unchanged to 7½c lower.

Crop News Is Favorable.

Crop news was as good as it is possible to have at this season of the year, the public and private reports telling of improved conditions. Those from Kansas and Oklahoma were most favorable.

Export buying of wheat was light, no business being reported during the day, although after the close 500,000 bu were given out as sold to France. The Greek order was not filled so far as known, although there was buying of futures here that suggested operations for it.

March wheat was handled in lighter volume at 9c over the May and there was not the selling of either March or May that has been so conspicuous of late, although inside figures were 3¼@3⅝c under the early top, while commission houses were well supplied with buying orders to take profits around $1.40¼ for May, the lowest of the day. There was said to be a good supply of resting orders at $1.40. Buying that developed in the last ten minutes of trading carried prices up 1¼c with the pit element, all being short. Argentine shipments were estimated at 1,860,000 bu.

Corn Under Pressure.

Corn was under pressure from all classes of traders, particularly the liquidators. The country is said to be long both cash and futures and has severe losses. All the local professionals were on the selling side throughout the day, while at 63⅝c, the lowest of the season, there was liberal covering. The Armour interest was credited with selling freely early in the day. The country is selling little cash corn. The close was at 63⅞@64c for May and for full carrying charges from May to July and September.

Weather and crop news was bearish on oats and there was free local selling, with little buying, except by a few professionals taking profits.

Seaboard houses bought rye early and were sellers at the last. Export bids were the same as of late, 26c over May, track Baltimore. While May rye was strong and gained ¼c, July was under pressure. There is only about 5c difference between May rye and May wheat, and, taking it pound for pound, rye is higher than wheat.

Provisions Close Low.

Packing interests were buyers of lard and ribs, giving the market support at times, while speculators and commission houses were selling. The close was around the low point, with moderate losses. Packers are buying loose lard from the outside and selling the May. Leaf lard was 10¼c. Packing in the west since March 1 totals 1,653,000, against 1,748,000 last year. Prices follow:

CASH GRAIN NEWS

Export sales of 500,000 bu hard winter wheat were reported via the gulf to France for April-May loading at 26½c over May. Nothing was heard regarding the placing of the Greek order for 1,300,000 bu. St. Louis reported 40,000 bu sold to exporters. Some Manitobas sold for shipment at opening of navigation.

Domestic shipping sales of cash grain at Chicago were 30,000 bu, with 10,000 bu to exporters, 85,000 bu corn, and 150,000 bu oats. Sales of 50,000 bu wheat were made to go to store.

Dark No. 1 northern from Canada sold at Duluth to mills at 37c over Minneapolis May, or an advance of 7c in two days. Bulk of the wheat delivered at Minneapolis has been No. 3 northern, and while mills have been ordering out some of this grain, choice kinds are necessary for mixing purposes. This was reflected in an advance of 1@2c in premiums in the latter market.

Cash wheat premiums at Chicago were unchanged, with No. 1 red 5@7c and No. 1 hard 6@7c over March. No. 1 northern was 1@6c over. Receipts, 25 cars. Outside markets were firmer, with Omaha 2c higher and Kansas City unchanged to 1c lower, while at St. Louis red was unchanged to ½c higher, with a good milling and elevator demand.

RAILROAD NOTES

Stockholders of the Pennsylvania Railroad company at their annual meeting reelected Bayard Henry, G. H. McFadden, and Howard Hines as directors for four years. They also approved the proposed $100,000,000 increase in the railroad's indebtedness.

The interstate commerce commission has certified to the treasury the payment of $300,000 to the Maine Central and $100,000 to the Minneapolis and St. Louis as partial payment on account of six months' guaranty.

The Southern railway is the first road to show a comparative improvement in a week. Its gross in the second week of March was $3,197,000, an increase of $9,780, its first gain this year. The Mobile and Ohio, a subsidiary, has been showing a consistent weekly improvement. Its gross since Jan. 1 has been $3,865,000, an increase of $325,000.

All steamship lines running from ports in the Dominican republic to New York have announced a reduction of 5 per cent in freight rates on shipments to that port. In addition, one company has announced a special rate on raw sugar of 3.75 cents per hundred pounds, except where contracts already have been made.

WORLD'S GRAIN MARKET NEWS

Despite the continued decline in wheat and other grains, sentiment favors lower prices. It is more marked in wheat than in corn and oats. The markets need new buying incentives to change the mental and financial conditions and bring about permanent advances, and until that comes nervous markets are to be expected.

Wheat traders are talking about the probable opening price for July wheat when trading starts next Monday. Estimates are 10@20c under the May, with 25c under bid. Should the price for May decline in the next two trading days of this week, the figures will have to be changed. In other words, May wheat at $1.40, with July 20c under, would make it $1.20, while May at $1.30 with July 20c discount would mean $1.10. A great deal of bearish gossip is heard about the probable low price for July wheat, which is based on the good crop prospects, and is inducing selling of May in expectation of the discount for July being a depressing factor.

The British commission is to decontrol wheat April 1. It has operated on supplying 100 per cent of its requirements of late and has reduced them at the rate of 20 per cent per month. Imports after April 1 will be by individual operators.

A survey of the oat situation by C. H. Gibson, a specialist, shows excessive stocks in all positions in this country and Canada, and with the new crop getting a good start he sees nothing on which to favor buying.

In order to meet competition by other countries, the price of Australian wheat has been reduced by the Australian commission from around $1.75 per bu to $1.56¼.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Active buying of eggs advanced prices 3½c yesterday. The price for fresh firsts was 26½@27c. Lowering of prices of late has increased the demand in the east. Arrivals were 25,428 cases, against 12,375 cases last year.

Cheese markets were easier, with trading largely in small lots. At Fond du Lac, Wis., twins declined ½c and Americas ¼c, while longhorns and double daisies advanced ¼c. Eastern markets were mixed.

Live hens declined 1c. Receipts, 2 cars and 725 coops. A firmer market was on for potatoes, with 42 cars in and 253 cars on team track.

TEN YEAR WALL ROW ENDED; PLAN $500,000 BLOCK

BY AL CHASE.

More than ten years of argument, legal and otherwise, over a party wall were ended yesterday when the Swigart Paper company paid $8,500 cash to the Empire Paper company for the use of half of the object of controversy. At the same time $74,500 cash was paid Mrs. Hulda B. Morris for the 99x102 at 715-21 South Wells street, improved with three old buildings, on which a $500,000 ten story building is to be erected as soon as conditions warrant. The much fought over party wall will become part of the south side of the new building.

The wall cost the Empire Paper company $33,000 more than ten years ago. Mrs. Morris refused to sign an agreement to pay half the cost, which was much greater than estimated, and during the last decade attorneys have been paid thousands of dollars to try and settle the dispute. J. J. Harrington & Co., brokers in the deal, spent thirteen months before they succeeded in getting the wall controversy straightened out. The Swigart Paper company, now at 653 South Wells street, will use the entire new building.

Start on Loop Skyscraper.

Wreckers will start tomorrow to tear down the old buildings at 8-16 North Clark street to make way for the fifteen story $950,000 Union Liberty building, designed by Architect Walter Ahlschlager. The general contract has been awarded Paschen Bros. A $550,000 ten year 6 per cent loan has been made on the property.

The nine flat building at the southwest corner of St. James place and Lake View avenue has been sold by Conrad Stoffregen to Frederick E. Kalthoff, through Willis & Frankenstein, for a reported $55,000. The same brokers have sold for Richard J. Mahony to Daniel S. Fling the six apartment building at 2752-54 Pine Grove avenue for a reported $70,000.

Mr. Kalthoff has purchased from James La Greca the six flat building at the southwest corner of Wrightwood avenue and Orchard street, through Theodore R. Christian, for a reported $24,000. Mr. Christian also has sold for August J. Dewes to Fritz Schoultz the two flat building at 631 Wrightwood avenue for a reported $31,000.

Buys Dan Campbell Home.

Baird & Warner report the sale of the property located at 5646 Sheridan road, consisting of the ten room residence and 50x150 foot lot, belonging to Mrs. Jennie Campbell, widow of Daniel Campbell, former postmaster of Chicago. The home was sold to Bernard Miller for $40,000. The home is five years old. There is an ample garage, built on the same style as the house.

Equipped with excellent set of tires, one extra; bumper, tire cover, etc. Mechanical condition could hardly be better and is guaranteed by us. Upholstering looks like new. Where are you going, my pretty maid?
To see 'bout that contest, sir, she said.

PERHAPS no girls in the central west are busier than are the farmerettes, with spring coming on and all. But they are following the big beauty contest closely.

With one eye on the baby chicks that are making their first peeps, they keep the other eye on the watch for the R. F. D. postman who brings THE TRIBUNE every morning.

Anna writes from down on the farm: "I don't suppose I will win. I don't have no time to paint and powder. I work outdoors, splitting wood in winter and in the summer help put in the crops and gather them. I also have thirty hogs to water and two cows to milk."

Real beauty does not depend on paint and powder, Anna. And it will be real beauty upon which the judges will decide when the contest closes. The contest closes April 9.

Ten thousand dollars will be awarded to the most beautiful girl when she is found. In addition ten prizes will be distributed in each of the six territorial divisions—the city of Chicago, the state of Illinois outside of Chicago, the state of Indiana, the state of Iowa, the state of Wisconsin, and the state of Michigan.

The first prize in each of these divisions will be $1,000, the second $250, the third $100, and the remaining seven $50 each.

The contest is open to every girl, unmarried or a widow, who resides anywhere in the five states, except professional beauties.

Select a photograph of yourself or some girl friend and write plainly on the back of it the name, street address, and occupation of the entrant.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

by Antoinette Donnelly

MRS. F. A.: YOU WANT A ... ple of a good reduction menu? ... about the one below? Aw, ... don't have to have the blood of ... early Christian martyrs in your ... to make the sacrifice. You will be ... prised to find how little you ... need compared to how much you ... been eating, once you get into the ... of dieting:

BREAKFAST.
Stewed prunes.
Baked or coddled eggs.
Coffee, black and unsweetened.

LUNCHEON.
Bowl clear soup.
Three crackers.
All you want of lettuce or cucumber ... vinegar dressing.
Coffee or tea.

DINNER.
One piece toasted rye bread.
Coffee.

VENUS P.: WHITE OR COLORED stockings should never be soaked. They should be washed out quickly in warm water and a good white soap and rinsed well in clear water. Then they should be put in a coarse towel and wrung out as dry as possible before hanging up to dry. Nor should they be hung in the sun to dry. Neither should they be ironed. Following these instructions you will not find yellowed or faded or spotted stockings at the end of the wash.

ELSIE: WHY NOT? IF YOU don't mind taking a chance of breaking a tree down or an end out of the frame garage, as you suggest you can get on the roller skates and "go to it," as young brother would put it. You better get a steady partner for a few turns round, though. Why don't you ride horseback, too. Both of these exercises would help you a whole lot toward a slenderer figure.

SHOPGIRL: FOR THE CALLOUS spots, soak the feet in hot water for ten or fifteen minutes at night to soften the spots. Then rub the callouses with a hand pumice stone to take off the hard skin. During the day keep a little cold cream or vaseline on the tender spot. Dry sulphur dusted over the soft corn between the toes will kill the pain.

ELSA: A GIRL FIVE FEET seven, 17 years of age, should weigh around 129 pounds. So, you are quite fit, are you not?
